#01. 20th Century Horse and Cattle Powder Sign: Heavy cardboard hanging sign or window card from the 20th Century Medicine Company of Philadelphia. 14” x 11¾”. It also advertises their Egyptian Horse Liniment made at their laboratory in Steinsburg, Bucks County, Pennsylvania. Sign has damp stain along all four edges. Upper left corner has been reinforced on the reverse. A lot of the edge stain could be framed out and still display well.

#02. Barker’s Poultry Powder Wooden Bucket: Wooden bucket with paper label, lid, and bale handle from the Barker, Moore, and Mein Company of Philadelphia. This bucket once held 12 pounds of Poultry Powder, a mineral, appetizer and conditioner for poultry. 11⅜” x 10¼”. The paper label is in pretty great shape considering it survived on this bucket. It is very colorful and bright with only minimal paper losses. This is the only example of such a bucket I have ever seen or offered. Veterinary related buckets for stock food and livestock powders are very scarce and seldom survived farm use. Those that did survive, usually have damaged labels, at best. A rare survivor.

#03. Bickmore Metal Store Display for Three (3) Tins: This is a lithographed metal stand, 9 ¾” x 3 ¾” x 1 ¼” with three openings in which to display Bickmore Gall Cure tins. It is currently displaying three later, Gall Salve tins, which will be sold with the stand. It appears as if the display would have originally had an additional metal or cardboard vertical piece that stood up behind the flat display you see. There are grooves in the back that would have supported such an additional advertising piece. Since I have never seen another example, complete or not, I can’t say what might or might not be missing. AS IS, it is a pretty nice and unusual display piece for early CURE tins.

#04. Bickmore Gall Salve Sign: Large (33” x 22”) cardboard sign for Bickmore Gall Salve. Used for all wounds and sores on animals. The image is of an endless team of horses, in harness, moving up a mountain. Each of the horses is in the image of “Doctor” the horse owned and used at the Bickmore factory. Great color and in excellent condition.

#05. Campbell’s Horse Foot Remedy Poster: This is an early, c1890, lithographic poster from the James B. Campbell Company of Chicago. They were the makers of Campbell’s Horse Foot Remedy. The poster has an image size of 23” x 17” with a full 1” margin all around. There is a lot going on in this poster to catch your eye. The central vignette is the inside of a stable with two horse and three African American grooms. One groom is treating the legs of a horse with Campbell’s Remedy. The other two grooms are playing poker on top of a wooden crate of Horse Foot Remedy and smoking cigars. The top of the poster has the heading “[THEY ALL USE]” and is referring to the four characters on horseback, an Arabian soldier, British soldier, American Indian, and an American Cowboy. This implies the Horse Foot Remedy was sold and used around the world and across the United States. The bottom of the poster is dedicated to the diseases that the remedy cures. These are mostly related to the hoof such as Founder, Quarter Cracks, and Corns, but it does make claims to cure muscle related diseases like Sweeney and also heal Barb-Wire Cuts. The poster is in excellent condition overall with just some minor damp stain along the left edge and one short tear (1/2”) on the right edge into the image. Like most framing at the turn of the Century, this poster was originally framed with wooden backboards, which allowed acid to leach into the paper and tone the reverse. I would encourage the new owner to have the poster professionally conserved to protect it for the next 100 years. The first time I ever saw this poster was in an auction around 1990 where it brought $1000. At the time, other veterinary posters brought about $100-200 and a “great” medicine was $35. That poster is still in the collection of the buyer. The next example I saw was in 2000 when we were taking Jessica to college in Boston. I stopped in an antique shop in New Hampshire and asked about veterinary items. The owner said he had a poster at this house. We went to his house and he pulled an example of this poster out from behind a door. I still own that poster. This example, at auction, is the third example I have ever seen. It was consigned primarily due to the success of the Campbell’s Horse Foot Remedy tin sign that sold in the August 2014 VCR Auction for over $3000. I consider this one of the all time great veterinary posters. Estimate is $2000-3000 and open at $1000.

#06. Dr. Claris’ Kronkine One Gallon Jug: One gallon stoneware jug for Kronkine, a fever medicine for horses. The jug has an original cobalt blue stencil under the salt glaze. The stencil has an outer blue frame. Inside this frame reads: KRONKINE / DR. CLARIS / VETERINARY HOSPITAL / BUFFALO, N. Y. 11” x 7”. This cobalt blue stencil set up is extremely uncommon on Dr. Claris jugs. I have only seen one other similar example, held in a private collection, and that jug was for Dr. Claris’ “White Liniment.” The jug is in excellent, near mint condition with only the tiniest edge chip. The stencil is not as sharp as you might hope for, but here is a rare jug with rarer advertising from a very desirable veterinary surgeon. On average, Dr. Claris jugs have sold in the $500-800 range. Opening bid is $300.

#07. Clayton’s Dog Remedies Window Card, Pekingese Spaniel: Heavy cardboard window card printed with Dr. Clayton’s advertising and having a real photo image of “Chung of Lamar” Champion Pekingese in the center. 19” x 13” overall size. Condition is excellent with minor corner wear on the bottom corners and some scattered light stains. “Window Cards” were just that, advertising that was placed in the window of a store to stimulate a customer to come in and buy a product. In this case it was for Dr. Clayton’s Dog Remedies, “A REMEDY FOR EVERY DISEASE.” Opening bid is $60.

#08. Clayton’s Dog Remedies Window Card with Child and Japanese Spaniels: This is the best Dr. Clayton window card I have ever auctioned. Almost all examples are of Champion dog breeds, like the previous lot. However, this example has a photo image of a distraught child whose breakfast is being eaten by a couple of Japanese Spaniels. She has her spoon in hand and is apparently screaming at the top of her lungs. Dogs and children have always sold products and this example with the photo dated 1902 is no exception. 19” x 13”. There are some light creases along the top right corner and a slight tear to the top edge that has tape repair on the reverse. Overall it displays very well and the photo would give anyone a smile. Open at $60.

#09. ORIGINAL Dr. Daniels’ Horse and Dog Medicine Metal Sign: Embossed metal sign with raised white letters on a dark blue background. This original example is c 1910 and has a grey reverse. 28” x 18”. This sign has some corner wear and scattered wear to some of the raised letters. It has that authentic look of genuine wear. This sign was reproduced, by the Dr. Daniels’ Company in the 1960’s in mass quantities. I once owned one hundred fifty of the reproduction signs in their original packing boxes. You can find these re-popped signs on Ebay quite commonly. The key factor is the 1960’s signs have a green coating on the reverse. The original signs, which are scarce but not unknown have sold for as much as $500 while the reproduced signs sell in the $25-50 range. This sign, offered here, is one of six (6) original signs I have sold since 1997. No reserve.

Dr. Daniels’ Wonder Worker Canvas Banner: This is an early sign printed on canvas and has a sight size of 11” x 24”. This image of Dr. Daniels shows up on his early advertising and I would date this banner to c1900-1910. His later signs of this type were printed on cardboard. The banner has been professionally framed and mounted. It is ready to hang. The condition is very good with some minor wear in evidence. Remember, banners such as this were nailed up outside a store or on a fence and therefore suffered from exposure. Few canvas banners have survived in any condition and this one has that look of authentic wear while still having great display appeal. I have sold two previous canvas examples from Dr. Daniels’, one for Gall Cura and another for Wonder Worker. These sold in the $600 range. Open this at $200 and remember, no additional cost to frame it.

Dr. Daniels’ Dominoes: This is a full set of wooden advertising dominoes in its original cardboard box from Dr. A. C. Daniels of Boston. The back of each domino reads “USE DR. DANIELS’/ MEDICINES / FOR SICK HORSES.” The box lid has a photo of Dr. Daniels and advertises his “FAMOUS REMEDIES / FOR HOME TREATMENT OF / HORSES, CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE.” 6 ¾” x 2” x 1 ¼”. I have sold a random dominoes previously, but this is the first complete set I have every sold, including the box. The box has some minor wear to the lid and has some tape repair to the left end corners. The dominoes look to have never been played with and are in MINT condition with one exception. The back of one domino has been signed, by a previous owner, as Chad Anderson, in blue. Super rare and complete Dr. Daniels’ advertising give-away. Open at $100.

Foutz’s Horse and Cattle Advertising Fan: David E. Foutz sold Foutz’s Liniment and Foutz’s Horse & Cattle Powder from his store in Baltimore, Maryland. This unique advertising fan has five colorful panels detailing the benefit of his powders on each species. Moving from the left: Horses “Best in the World for Horses; Hogs, “Fattens and Cures Cholera”; Poultry, “Makes hens lay and Cures Cholera”; Sheep, “Adds Wool to Sheep”; Cows, “Produces more butter and milk”. 15 ½” x 8 ¾”. The reverse is black and white advertising for Foutz Medicines and can be seen on the website. The condition is unbelievable. It looks as bright and crisp as the day it was made, over 100 years ago. The reverse does have some very light glue stains that do not detract as this was probably mounted in a scrapbook for most of its life. Never seen anything quite like this. Open at $100.

Hanford’s Balsam of Myrrh Sign: Heavy cardboard sign that advertised a CURE for Galls, Puffs, Thrush and other diseases of live stock and horses. 14” x 6”. The Hanford Company, from Syracuse, NY sold their remedies from glass front display cabinets. This sign was designed to be nailed up outside and that is just what happened, over 100 years ago. The reverse does have some very light glue stains that do not detract as this was probably mounted in a scrapbook for most of its life. Never seen anything quite like this. Open at $100.

Dr. Hess Louse Killer Advertisement: Cardboard sign, 10” x 13” from Dr. Hess & Clark of Ashland, Ohio. “NO MONKEY BUSINESS” when you treat your livestock with Dr. Hess Louse Killer. Minor wear and slight scuffing.

Humphreys Veterinary Specifics Embossed Horse Display Cabinet: Original wooden cabinet c1900 from the Humphreys’ Homeopathic Medicine Company of New York. The cabinet has a triangular profile with a deeper bottom than top. 21” x 28” x 10”. It has both of its original doors. This style cabinet opened from the front or back and each door has its original hook and eye closure. The front panel is made from a composite paper material. It was pressed into a mold, under pressure, to produce the raised image of the horse and the wording seen on the panel. The background of the panel was painted black with red applied to the top of the lettering. The circle and the horse head originally had a silver paint wash and traces of this survive. This panel has a small ding on the upper left side and a slight crack in the paint on the right. Much of the original red paint on the letters survives. The photo shows a brown drip below the horse, but this is hardly evident when viewed. The case is totally original but for two issues. First someone painted the numbers “36” in the middle of the bottom door frame and second, the right bottom corner has been rounded off. This was probably done by the original store owner so the cabinet could sit on a round edge and not stick out. It is very hard to find a cabinet that has this level of authenticity. These cabinets, when offered, typically sell in the $3000-5000 range. The opening bid here is $1500 with no further reserve.

International Stock Food Poster (No Number), Anderson’s Model: This is a small size ISF (International Stock Food) poster, 10” x 13 ½”. Anderson’s Model is illustrated. Between 1897 and 1905 she farrowed 148 pigs that sold for over $10,000. Her and her pigs ate ISF every day. The testimonial is dated 1907. Light damp stain in the lower right corner. Very strong colors on this poster and worth your consideration.

International Stock Food Poster #78, Quick Hog Fattener: This is a small size ISF poster, 10” x 13 ½”. The images are of actual photographs of a 60 pound runt that grew to be a 420 pound hog eating ISF every day. Wide margins make this easily framed. The bottom right corner has some damp stain that is mostly visible in the white border and is easily framed out. Only one previous example has been recorded.

International Stock Food Poster #106, Quick Results Hog Tonic: “THIS HOG GAINED 5LBS. PER DAY BY FEEDING THE GREAT ANIMAL TONIC.” 9 ½” x 13 ½”. This poster is in excellent condition with no damage and nice margins. Only one previous example has been recorded, that was in 2007 when an example brought $250. I smell a bargain here for some lucky bidder.

Dr. LeGear’s Metal Display Rack with Double Sided Metal Sign: Metal rack c1930 from Dr. LeGear of St. Louis. The rack is double sided with two shelves on each side that hold medicine boxes. The painted metal sign at the top is also double sided with the identical wording on both sides. 19” x 37” overall. Condition is excellent with only very minimal wear to the sign. This is the third example of this rack I have handled. The other two sold in 1997 and in 2006, so you can see this is a pretty scarce item. Start your country store display by filling this rack with medicine boxes and you will have an eye-catching conversation piece.

Old Grist Mill Dog Bread Poster: Black and white paper poster illustrating a hunting dog, at point, in a field. The image size is 16” x 20”. The advertising reads: IN THE FIELD OR AT HOME CONDITION ON OLD GRIST MILL DOG BREAD. Dog bread is a term for early commercial dog food. It was typically a very hard biscuit type product that was sold in boxes. Austin’s Dog Bread of Boston is probably the best known, but Dr. Daniels also produced a Dog Bread product. Condition is excellent.

#21) Lions Stock Remedy Lithographed Tin: This tin once held 25 pounds of Lions Stock Remedy and is 9 ½” x 9 ½” x 11”. It was produced by the Live Stock Remedy Company of St. Louis, Missouri. Advertising appears on all four sides of this tin with the impressive “Lion Head” logo on two sides. The tin also retains its original cap, which also has this logo. The condition of this large tin is fantastic. The colors are bright and intense and there is only the very slightest evidence of wear on the entire tin. This tin will literally jump off any shelf or cabinet top to grab your attention. Opening bid is $200.

#22) Dr. J. C. Melvin 1930 Calendar Give-away: This calendar was a give away from Dr. Melvin, Graduate Veterinarian from Mayfield, Kentucky. The print of the three bird dogs is captioned, “The Sportsman’s Pride.” This was printed by the Fort Dodge Serum Company for distribution to veterinarians. Excellent condition. It is framed in a nice wooden frame and ready to hang. Overall size with the frame is 18” x 12”.

#23) Pratt’s Checker Maze Board Game: Cardboard board game that was made to fold in half. The game is dated 1906 and all directions are on the board. You start at a corner and the goal is to make it “Home” before your opponents. 15” x 15”. I have seen these framed, in collections, and they really look good on a wall. There are not too many veterinary board games to collect. The reverse is filled with Pratt’s advertising and a list of all their veterinary remedies. The corner tips have some minor expected wear and the center-fold is torn about 3” up at the bottom edge. If you frame this game, that tear will be unnoticeable. Searce give away promotional item from Pratt’s Food Company of Philadelphia.

#24) Pratts Animal Regulator Calendar, 1918: Cardboard calendar with a FULL calendar pad from 1918. Illustration of a very beautiful farm girl holding chicks while another chick is eating from a spilled box of Pratt’s Baby Chick Feed. Through her open window, you can see the “Pratt Experiment Station” in the background. 7 ¾” x 13” and currently matted with a gray mat, but not framed. There are a couple of minor edge tears, a few fly specks, and some wear to top page of calendar pad, but over all it is colorful and bright with a great image. This is the first example of this year Pratt’s calendar I have ever recorded in my Compendium of Prices since 1993. This calendar failed to get a $100 opening bid in the August 2014 auction, so here it goes WITH NO RESERVE. Selling to the high bidder.

#25) International Stock Food Poster Trotting Stallion Directum 2:05 1/4”: This is a small size ISF poster, 10” x 13 ½”. Directum is one of the champion horses, along with Dan Patch, owned by Marion Savage, the owner of the ISF Company. Poster has great color. One very light vertical, center fold is only distraction. This example has no litho number.

#26) Kow Kare and Bag Balm Easel Back Display: Cardboard, stand-up display with an easel back from the Dairy Association Company of Vermont, the maker of Kow Kare and Bag Balm. They are still in business today. 6” x 8”. This probably dated to the 1920’s. Light toning and water stain at the top. We sold this exact display in 2011 for $110. This could be a deal for that under-bidder. Nice display item for the dairy collector.

#27) Prussian Remedies Metal Display Sign: Advertising items from the Prussian Veterinary Remedy Company of St. Paul, MN are very scarce. This painted metal sign has a curved metal stand attached to the bottom of the sign. It appears to me that this would have been used on the top of a store counter, but could have been on a stand alone, product display stand with this sign as the top. It sits perfectly well as is and would look great surrounded by Prussian Remedies. 12” x 11”. The paint is worn but very legible and I believe this is probably a unique advertising item. The consigner purchased this sign in the VCR auction of 2003 for $120. This time it goes for your high bid.

#28) Spratt’s Dog Cakes Sign: Heavy cardboard sign with illustrations of eight champion dog breeds from the Spratt Company of Newark, New Jersey. This company made veterinary remedies as well as dog food. The sign is mounted and framed very nicely. It is ready to hang. The sign is 18 ½” x 14 ½”. Overall with frame, 25” x 20”. The sign has three old nail holes and some corner wear. It makes a nice display item.

#29) Dr. Turner, Veterinary Surgeon Sand Painted Sign: This is an original, early sign in the original frame. This is called a “sand painted sign” because the sign maker added sand to the paint when the sign was produced. This sand added texture to the surface of the sign, which helped the sign endure the ravages of the weather. This veterinary surgeon’s sign survived in excellent condition with a gold print over a black background. 31” x 11”. Professional signs are often considered fold art. No reserve or minimum opening bid on this great sign.

#30) Sutterby Bros. Veterinary Remedies Glass Front Display Cabinet: The Sutterby brothers, William (ONT, 1878), Frank (ONT. 1887), and Joseph (ONT. 1889) were all graduates of the Ontario Veterinary College. William, the oldest established a veterinary practice in Batavia, New York after graduation and his brothers apprenticed with him before they went off to veterinary college. Frank practiced in Avon, New York. Joseph established his practice in LeRoy, New York in 1889. There is no evidence that the brothers practiced together after their college graduation, so we must assume that this cabinet, identified as “SUTTERBY BROS” dates from c1880-1885. At that time William had an established practice in Batavia and Frank and Joseph were his apprentices. This glass front cabinet, 17” x 26” x 5 ½”, has the company name painted on the curved pediment and the top of the glass door. This reads: SUTTERBY BROS / VETERINARY / REMEDIES. Each of their veterinary remedies is painted along the sides of the glass door panel. They read on the left: CAUSTIC BALSAM / CONDITION POWDERS. On the bottom: COLIC CURE / FEVER MEDICINE. On the right: COUGH-HEAVE-DISTEMPER CURE / VETERINARY OINTMENT. The way this cabinet is painted is unique and in my mind falls into the spectrum of “Folk Art.” I have sold two cabinets related to Joseph Sutterby and a couple of his medicines from LeRoy, New York but this cabinet probably predates his veterinary graduation. The cabinet has an old applied hook and eye closure on the door but does have the original lock in place. The back panel is replaced. It may be hard to get a sense of the art involved in painting these remedy names from photographs. In person, this cabinet my be subtle to the eye but to me it screams, “Look at me. I’m old, original, and unique. I would estimate this cabinet at $2000-3000 and we will start the bidding at $1000. If you like the unusual and authentic, this has the WOW factor.
Wilbur’s White Rock Hoof Packing Advertising Sign: The Wilbur Seed Meal Company building is on fire and this three horse team pulling the Fire Engine is coming to the rescue. The horses are snorting steam as they are obviously pulling for all they are worth. In the background, the flames are leaping out of the windows of all four stories of the building. The side of the building is identified as the “WILBUR SEED MEAL COMPANY / Manufacturer of Wilbur Stock Food / Egg Food.” The bottom right corner has the company logo of a painted wooden bin for Wilbur Seed Meal Food. The printed advertising at the bottom is for Wilbur’s White Rock Hoof Packing. This colorful sign is in excellent condition with no damage to the image and has wide margins. It has only one long crease in the upper margin that does not come close to the image. Based on the early company name “Seed Meal” and the fire engine design, I would date this early lithograph as c1890-1900. 14” x 10 ½”. The image is very similar to the Pratt’s Food Company poster, “Last Alarm” we just sold in the Rothman Collection auction. However, this is the only example of this sign that we have ever heard of or seen. It was unknown prior to a bookseller contacting me about consignment. Wilbur material is very much in demand. We are opening the bidding at $500 with no further reserve.

Paper Ephemera
Letterhead, Receipts, Envelops, Flyers, Etc

Chappelear’s Horse, Cattle, Sheep, Swine & Poultry Powder Package Label: This is an early, c1890, lithographed, unused package label from Chappelear & Sons, Zanesville, Ohio. 10 ½” x 14”. The color is very intense, just like the day it was printed. Excellent condition and suitable for framing.

Dan Patch 1:55 1/4. Advertisement for the Faber Sulky: One page, heavy paper advertisement from the Faber Sulky Company of Rochester, New York. Dan Patch, owned by the International Stock Food Company drew a Faber sulky when he set his World Record mile in 1:55 ¼. 9” x 13”. Some minor edge wear.

Reading’s Poultry Food and Invigorating Powder: One page paper flyer from the Reading Chemical & Fertilizing Company of Reading, Pennsylvania. 8 ¼” x 11 ¾”. “…curing Chicken Cholera and all other diseases the feathered tribe is heir to.” C1890. Excellent original condition. Ready to frame.

Trade Cards

Austin’s Dog Bread Trade Card: Oversize card from Austin & Graves, c1890, from Boston. This is one of the first manufacturers of commercial “Dog Bread” in America. Looks like a Pekinese in a military uniform.

Glover’s Dog Remedies Extra Large Trade Card: This cardboard card, c1890 is 7 ¼” x 4 ¾”. It is the only large size trade card like this I have ever seen. The card has some streaky stains in the background. Advertising was selling scantily clad young women even a hundred years ago.

Somerville’s Anti-Fever Medicine Trade Card: Front image is of trotting horse Rarus and his mile time of 2:13 ¾. It has Dr. Wm. Somerville’s Buffalo Horse Infirmary advertising on the reverse and the Anti-Fever Medicine for horses on the front and back. From Buffalo, New York and a competitor of Dr. John Claris.

Booklets and Catalogs

The Buckeye Book: “A Treatise on Stock and Poultry, their Diseases and Treatment of Same” using Buckeye Remedies from the Buckeye Company of Lorain, Ohio. 4 ¾” x 8”. Livestock treatment is the gist of this 48 page booklet. All of the Buckeye packaging is illustrated and there are some KILLER boxes, I hope they exist but since only free samples of their Gall Salve have ever been recorded, I’m not holding out much hope. Light stains to cover, but generally very nice condition.

Dr. Fenner’s Farmer’s Stock Book: Dr. Fenner primarily sold Human patent medicines from Fredonia, New York. This rare, 32 page booklet touts his “Golden Relief” medicine as a veterinary cure for all inflammatory diseases such as horse leg ailments, Cuts and Galls, Colic, Respiratory Diseases, and Kidney diseases. If your animal suffered from it, this Golden Relief cured it. Only the second example of this booklet I have seen. 8 ½” x 5 ½”. Condition is a rough with light stains and tears to the cover, mostly on the reverse.

Rawleigh’s “Practical Doctor and Feeder”, the book for the stock raiser: Early booklet with testimonials dated before 1901 from the W. T. Rawleigh Medical Company of Freeport, Illinois. 8” x 5 ¼”. This is a booklet of 60+ pages, filled with diagnosis and treatment of live stock diseases from horses to swine. The cover has some light toning and a few pages are dog-eared. The interior pages are complete and clean. A scarce booklet.

Sacol Dog Manual: Sacol K-9 Dog Remedies were produced in Brooklyn, New York. This 24 page booklet discusses the treatment of pretty much all dog diseases with their K-9 remedies. It seems their Distemper Remedy is good for a whole lot more than just curing Distemper. 4 ½” x 6 ¼”. A couple of small paper nicks on the front cover and a few small spots on the inside pages are the only issues. This is the first example of any type from this dog remedy company. If you have a Sacol Dog remedy, please let me know, I’d love to see it.

Spratt’s Dog Culture with Chapters on Cats: Canine and Feline diseases and their cures is the topic of this scarce 100 page booklet from Spratt’s Limited of Newark, New Jersey. 4” x 6” and in excellent condition but for a few minor spots on the cover. This booklet is dated 1906. Only two previous examples have been recorded and they had different publication dates.

Spratt’s Hints on the Care and Feeding of Dogs: No date, but this is probably from the 1930’s. It has a fold out full color insert of all the Spratt animal products and their displays. There are some great things illustrated that I have never seen. Booklet is typical dog care information using Spratt's Dog Remedies for their treatment. 5 3/4” x 7 1/2” and 48 pages. Excellent condition overall.

#44) Fleck's Remedy Booklets, Lot of Three (3): Three small paper booklets, all from J. J. Fleck's of Tiffin, Ohio. One has rusted staples with stain and all three have a little mouse chew at one corner. Three for one bid.

Patent Medicines

#45) A. J. P. Horse Colic Remedy: Bottle with paper label, box and paper insert from A. J. Phillips of Norwood, New York. Original contents contained Chloroform. 6” x 2 3/4” x 1 1/4”. Label has some light streaks on it while the box is missing the top flaps and is toned and speckled. This is the first example of this Colic Remedy I have offered.

#46) Avalon Farms Antiseptic Healing Powder: Unopened canister with paper label and contents from the Avalon Farms Company of Chicago. 4” x 2”. “Scientifically compounded for antisepticising” and healing Wire Cuts, Suppurating Wounds and Chronic Sores.” Is “antisepticising” really a word? There is a small dent in the canister and minor wear along the bottom edge of the paper label. Very bright and clean.

#47) Avalon Farms Cow Tonic: Unopened canister with paper label and contents from the Avalon Farms Company of Chicago. 7” x 4”. “AN APPETIZER, TONIC AND BUILDER.” Used for such conditions as Hoven and Depraved Appetite. Label has a little wear along the top and bottom edges, but displays very well. Clean and bright condition.

#48) Dr. Barber’s Inflammation Remedy: Unopened bottle with paper labels, front and back, and the original paper cover over the cork. From the Barber Medicine Company of Barre, Vermont. 3 1/2” x 1 1/2” x 1”. The original contents have evaporated and stained the very top of the cork cover. This was used to treat inflammation of the bowels in livestock. Only two examples of this remedy have been recorded previously and neither had a box to go with the bottle. The last recorded example sold in 2003 for $170. Dr. Barber’s medicines always seem to bring interest and this should be no exception.

#49) Barker’s Mineralized Mixture for Cows: Unopened cardboard box with contents from the Barker, Moore, and Mein Company of Philadelphia. 8” x 5” x 2”. This was used as a feed supplement for cows. Box contains 2 1/2 pounds of product. Condition is excellent with just a touch of top edge wear. First time offering of this cow remedy.

#50) Bavarian Horse Liniment: Bottle with paper label and box from the American Stock Food Company of Fremont, Ohio. The box has outstanding graphics of Uncle Sam kneeling beside a horse and rubbing this liniment on it’s leg. He is wearing his blue coat and red striped pants. 7” x 2 1/2” x 1 1/4”. The box is missing the top flaps and has additional edge damage as seen. The bottom is missing some flaps also. The bottle labels, front and back are excellent. There is dried residue in the bottle. This company used images of Uncle Sam on other of their veterinary remedies. This exact example sold in 2002 for $85.

#51) Beekman Dog Soap: Unopened and unused dog soap wrapped in a heavy silver paper and with a paper label on the front. This was produced by Schieffelin & Co. of New York. The label has a St. Bernard Dog image. 3” x 2” x 1”. Excellent, original condition.

#52) Calves Cordial: Unopened one pound cardboard box with contents from the Our Husbands Company of Lyndon, Vermont. 6” x 3 1/2” x 2”. Used as an astringent for loose bowels in cows and calves. Mint, original condition.

#53) Canine K-9 Vite: Cardboard box with original contents and folded insert from Canine Products, Inc. of Richmond, Virginia. 3” x 2” x 3/4”. Used as a vitamin supplement for dogs. Box shows some handling wear at the corners and edges. This is the first and only product recorded from the Canine Product Company. Sad looking puppy dog on the front panel.

#54) Carpenter’s Poultiote, A Perfect Poultry Tonic: Round cardboard canister with contents and paper label from the W. D. Carpenter Co. of Chicago. 5” x 3 3/4”. The poultiote was produced in two sizes, this being the smaller of the two. The paper wrapper is very colorful and graphic with all manner of fowls illustrated on the reverse. The company moved to Syracuse, New York around the turn of the century, so this is c 1890. Minor paper loss and edge wear are the only defects. Very early and graphic poultry medicine.

#55) Cenol Flea Powder: Unopened canister with paper label and original content from the Cenol Company of Chicago. The label has a kitten looking down on a pup. 5” x 2”. Excellent condition with no damage. Label is bright and clean.

#56) Dr. Clayton’s Astringent Tablets for Dogs: Cardboard box with original contents and paper insert. This was used for treating diarrhea in dogs. Box has the red Bulldog logo on the front panel. 2 3/4” x 2” x 3/4”. One bottom flap is partially torn and there is the remnants of a paper tag glued to the box front. On the plus side, this is the first example of this Dr. Clayton Dog medicine I have ever recorded. Display’s great, don’t miss out.

#57) Dr. Clayton’s Canker Lotion Tablets for Dogs: Embossed bottle with paper label and original contents Dr. G. W. Clayton, Chicago. Bottle is embossed: CLAYTON / DOG / REMEDIES / CHICAGO, 2” x 1 3/4”. This is an early example with the St. Bernard logo and Dr. Clayton’s name on the label. Previous examples of this remedy have sold, but they were bottles with liquid. This is the only example with tables, which you dissolve to produce the medicine that I have seen. Label does have some light toning and wear. Scarce dog medicine from a desirable company.

#58) Dr. Clayton’s Cephalin Dog Wash and Disinfectant: Unopened, screw top bottle with paper label and contents from Dr. George Clayton’s Dog Medicines, Chicago. 6 1/2” x 2” x 1 1/2”. This example has Dr. Clayton’s St. Bernard logo on the front. Label extends to three sides. The right side panel of the label is folded over on itself. No damage to the label and this could be re-glued.
Displays as near mint condition. All Dr. Clayton dog remedies and products are highly collected.

#59) Copeland’s Vermifuge for Dogs: Unopened bottle with paper label and contents from Copeland’s Pharmacy, Memphis, Tennessee. 5 ¼” x 1 ¼”. The dog image on the label looks a lot like images from early Glover’s Dog Medicine advertising. Label is in excellent, bright condition. This is the first and only example from this druggist that I have ever seen. Potentially unique dog medicine to add to your collection.

#60) Dr. Daniels’ Gape Oil for Poultry: Amber, 12 sided bottle with paper label from Dr. Daniels’. Few collectors might be aware that Dr. Daniels produced a line of poultry remedies for a short time. Based on the number of surviving examples, I’d say they were poor sellers and probably discontinued quickly. This example, Gape Oil, was for Gape, Gizzard Worms, and Pneumonia in poultry. The label is complete with minor wear. 3 ¾” x 1 ¾”. The only other example of this remedy I have recorded or seen was sold by Morford’s Advertising Auction in 1999. A labeled bottle brought there brought $90.

#61) Dr. Daniels’ Canine Chorea Drops: Bottle with paper label, box and paper insert. The contents have long since evaporated as they once held 70% alcohol. This early series of dog medicines is identified by having the logo of Dr. Daniels face between the legs of the Bulldog. Examples from this series are always in demand and this example and the next lot, are both previously unrecorded in my “Compendium of Prices.” 3 ¼” x 1 ¼”. Chorea was an early term for seizures or “Fits.” The bottle is crisp and in mint condition. The box is missing most top flaps but otherwise displays extremely well. This unique survivor is sure to bring a lot of interest.

#62) Dr. Daniels’ Canine Colic Drops: Bottle with paper label, box and paper insert. The contents have long since evaporated as they once held 70% alcohol. 3 ¼” x 1 ¼”. Previously unrecorded in my “Compendium of Prices.” Used for Colic, Cramps and Inflammation of the bowels in dogs. Bottle and label are in mint condition. The box is complete and as nice as I have ever seen one of these early survivors. Quality dog medicines with packaging don’t get any better than this.

#63) Dr. Daniels’ Danivom Tablets: Glass canister with paper label and original contents from Dr. Daniels’. This was a “soothing medicine used to arrest vomiting” in dog, puppies, cats, and kittens. 2 ½” x 5/8”. Label is complete, but complete.

#64) Dr. Daniels’ Fleeko for Cats: Bottle with paper label, paper label insert and box. This was a grooming liquid. The box reads: CAT COMFORT / FOR PERSIAN, ANGORA, COON CATS AND TOY DOGS. Cleans and brightens the coat. 4” x 1 ¼” x 1 ¼”. Bottle label is mint. Box has one top flap torn but is essentially complete. The box has RARE logo image of circle with a cat in the center. This should interest all of the cat collectors out there.

#65) Dr. Daniels’ KATONIC for Cats and Kittens: Unopened, amber bottle with paper label all around and original contents from Dr. A. C. Daniels of Boston. 3 ¾” x 1 ¼”. Used as a tonic in cats for Gastritis, Colic, Fits, and Stomach Ills. Label shows some wear in general but nothing too worrisome. Three previous examples of this cat medicine, all with boxes, have sold over the years for an average price of $325. Cat Medicine is always HOT. Here is a chance for the under bidders to get an example of this unusual cat medicine for a more reasonable price. Sells to the high bidder.

#66) Dr. Daniels’ Absorbent: Unopened, lithographed tin with contents. Used for Curb, Splint and Spavin in horses. It was used to reduce swellings on the legs of horses. 2” x 1 ¼”. Very good condition with just some slight wear on the side. This variation in the name is uncommon.

#67) Dr. Daniels’ Veterinary Eye Wash for Horses: Unopened bottle with paper label, contents, and box from Dr. A. C. Daniels of Boston. “Cures inflammation of the eyes.” Treats such eye diseases as Speck, Moon Blindness and Ophthalmia Irises. The label extends to three sides and is in near mint condition. It is as bright and clean as you will find. The box is missing top, side flaps. It displays very well and is very scarce. This is one of the most desirable Dr. Daniels’ medicines and very hard to find. Previous examples have sold for over $300. 5 ¼” x 2” x 1 ¾”. Don’t miss this one. Open the bidding at $75.

#68) Dr. Daniels’ Gall Salve (Gall Cura): Unopened tin with contents. The original name for this remedy was Gall Cura and with the Pure Food Act of 1906 the name had to change, so Dr. Daniels renamed it Gall Salve but he stuck the old name under the new. 3 ¾” x 1”. Condition is near mint, still with original shine to the tin. As nice as you will ever see.

#69) Dr. Daniels’ Healing Powder and Canker Remedy: Unopened lithographed tin canister with punch out metal top. Used for Canker of the ear or mouth in horses, cattle, dogs, and cats. 5” x 2 ½”. Paint has one thin scrape down the right side and paper residue on the top from an old price tag. Displays well and is a scarce Daniels’ tin worth your consideration.

#70) Dr. Daniels’ Hoof Grower & Softener: Lithographed tin with contents that was billed as the great remedy for all ailments of the horse’s hoof. 3” x 2 ½”. Before and After images of its use on a hoof are illustrated on the side of the tin. Condition of the tin is pristine. Slick, clean, and shiny. You would only ever be able to find an equal to this tin, never better.

#71) Dr. Daniels’ Horse Conditioner: Printed cardboard box complete with original one dozen single dose boxes. Vague uses for this medicine are on the box. Essentially it was used when the horse or colt needed a “Conditioner.” 3 ¾” x 2” x 2 ½”. Condition is excellent with only the slightest wear at the corners. Displays extremely well with strong blue color.

#72) Dr. Daniels’ Veterinary Physic Ball: Cardboard box with original Physic Ball inside. “Physic” is defined as a medicine, especially a cathartic. Used to treat the symptoms of Colic, Staggers, Worms, and “Congestion of the Brain.” I love that one!! 2 ½” x 1” x 1”. Mint original condition with no damage. You might think these would be quite common, but just the opposite is true. The last example we have seen was in 2006 and it sold for $60. No Daniels’ collection or stable case is complete without one of these.

#73) Dr. Dent’s Blood Purifying Pills for Dogs: Unopened wooden canister with paper label, contents, and box from the Dent Medicine Company of Newburgh, New York. 3 ½” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. This remedy will assist in the cure of all diseases arising from impurities of the system. Box and label are stained as you can see. Dr. Dent Dog Medicines are highly sought by collectors and this example, especially with a box still have value. If perfect, it would be over $100, as is, you set the price.

#74) Dr. Dent’s Vermifuge Capsules for Dogs: Wooden canister with paper label and original contents from the Dent Medicine Company of Newburgh, New York. 3” x 1 ¼”. As you see, the label is torn with paper missing along the top edge. Only two previous examples have been offered, the last 13 years ago brought $150. So this dog remedy is scarce, but the condition will hold the price down somewhat. Bid as you see fit.

#75) Duval & Norton’s Celebrated Horse Tonic: Bottle with partial contents, paper label and box from the Duval & Norton Medicine Company of Richmond, Virginia. Contained 45% alcohol. The box is missing the top flaps while the bottle and label are excellent. This is the only example of any medicine from this company I have seen. None have been recorded in my Compendium. 5” x 1 ½” x ½”. Rare Southern medicine.

#76) Federal Stock Food: Unopened box with paper label all around and full, original contents from the Federal Food Company of Millinburg, PA. This is the large and scarcer, 50 cent size. Great color and imagery of livestock on the front panel. Box is in excellent condition overall with just a few minor paper losses on the side and back. The box is currently shrink-wrapped. 9 ¾” x 5 ½” x 4”. The last one of these boxes we sold was in 2012 for $110. Very impressive shelf piece.

#77) FLEA-RID: Unopened canister with paper label from the Klinzmoth Chemical Company of New York City. Kills fleas and lice on dogs and cats. Directions for cats are to use sparingly where the cat cannot lick the fur. 5” x 2 ½”. Excellent, original condition on this first recorded example.

#78) FLEA-TOX: Unopened canister with paper label from the Rex Research Corp of Toledo, Ohio. 4 ½” x 2”. Paper label is in mint condition, clean and bright. Kitten and pup on the label.

#79) Glover’s Imperial Liniment for Dogs and Horses: Amber, embossed bottle with partial contents, paper label, and partial box from H. Clay Glover, DVS. Bottle is embossed: H. CLAY GLOVER / NEW YORK. 5” x 2” x 1 ¼”. Used for strains, sprains and stiffness. Paper label extends to three sides of the bottle and is in excellent condition but for a tiny paper loss to the right lower corner. This is not visible from the front. The box is a shell, missing all top and bottom flaps. This is one of only two examples, WITH ANY BOX AT ALL, that I have recorded. A very nice Glover Dog Medicine.

#80) Glover’s Imperial KOTEKARE: This is a dry bath product for your dog. It has a colorful cardboard back with a wide eyed dog illustration. It has under clear plastic, the original four “Dry Bath” ampules. 5 ½” x 4 ¾”. This dates from the early 1950’s and is in very good condition. First example I’ve seen.

#81) Griscom’s Liniment for Man or Beast: Unopened bottle with paper label, original contents and box from Aschenbach & Miller of Philadelphia. 7 ½” x 3” x 1 ½”. Excellent condition. Box is near mint. This looks like a “new, old stock (NOS)” remedy.

#82) Dr. Hess Poultry PAN-A-CEA, Free Sample: Unopened cardboard box with contents from Dr. Hess & Clark of Ashland, Ohio. This colorful, free sample, package is in near mint original condition. 4 ½” x 2 ¼” x 1 ½”. This tonic would make hens lay and chicks grow. Great display appeal. Free Sample.

#83) Humphreys’ Homeopathic Veterinary C. C.: Unopened embossed bottle with paper label, partial contents, booklet insert and box from the Humphreys Homeopathic Medicine Company of New York. 3 ½” x 1 ¾” x 1”. Used to treat Distemper, Gleet, and Strangles in livestock. This label has the 15% Alcohol designation. The box is excellent and complete. The bottle label has some spotting light toning overall, but still displays very well. The only other example of this variation with a box was recorded and sold in 1999 for $40.

#84) Humphreys’ Homeopathic Veterinary F. P.: Embossed bottle with paper label, partial contents, booklet insert and box from the Humphreys Homeopathic Medicine Company of New York. 3 ½” x 1 ¾” x 1”. Used to treat Colic, Belly Ache, and Wind Blown in livestock. This label has the 15% Alcohol designation. The label has some light toning. The box is an early example with the horse head on the front panel. It is missing the top flaps. Two previous examples with boxes have been recorded.

#85) Dr. Johnson’s Anti-Constipation & Liver Pills: Bottle with paper label and original contents from the New York Veterinary Hospital where Dr. Samuel Johnson was the Director. The hospital was located at 117 West 25th Street, near 6th Avenue. Dr. Johnson, in 1896, donated his apple orchard to establish the first pet cemetery in America, Hartdale Pet Cemetery. It is on the National Registry of Historic Places and the home of the War Dog Memorial for World War I. This rare remedy from his hospital is 2” x ¾” x ¾”. The label is faded, stained and has one small hole, but this is a survivor with a historic history. Only a handful of Dr. Johnson’s Dog Medicines have ever been recorded.

#86) Kitty Care Flea Powder: Unopened canister with paper label and contents from the House of Huston, New York City. Pink background color with a kitten face on the front. “Especially for Cats.” “Does not burn Kitty’s eyes.” 5 ¾” x 2”. Minor handling wear only, no damage to report. Cat only products have a loyal and dedicated collector following.

#87) Dr. LeGear’s Pepsin Compound Tablets for Dogs: Canister with paper label, contents, paper insert and box from Dr. LeGear of St. Louis. 2 ½” x 1 ¾” x 1”. This small dog medicine would have originally been displayed on a metal stand supplied by the Dr. LeGear Company to store owners. Canister is near mint. Box has torn top flaps and shows general wear. This one is pretty scarce, as only two previous examples have sold, the last in 2009 for $160. This one will probably not reach those heights but it is still a very presentable example.

#88) Dr. LeGear’s Puppy Worm Caps: Unopened paper envelope with contents. Used for puppies and cats, “in the food... or direct.” 4 ½” x 3 ½”. Not a lot of age on this dewormer, but as I had never seen it before, I thought someone would like it.
Package has some minor handling wear.

#89) Dr. LeGear’s Sarcoptic Mange Medicine for Dogs: Bottle with paper label and box used to treat dogs for mange. Bottle has had the original contents evaporated over time. 5 ½” x 2 ½” x 1 ¼”. Other than the loss of the original contents, this is in mint condition. Nice dog medicine.

#90) Dr. LeGear’s Lice Killer: Unopened canister with wrap around paper label and full contents. This is a very early and scarce example with a lady in Sunday dress and hat, powdering a chicken in the farmyard. All the other livestock are looking on. 6 ½” x 3 ¼”. This is only the second example I have ever offered and the third recorded. The last sale was in 2011 when an example brought $150. The condition is very good with some handling wear and darkening to the white print from age. Seldom seen and one of the more desirable Dr. LeGear remedies.

#91) Dr. LeGear’s Lice Powder: Unopened canister with wrap around paper label and full contents. This example is slightly later and more common than the previous example. This has the name change to Lice Powder and shows Dr. LeGear powdering the chicken’s rear end. 6 ½” x 3 ¼”. This example has good strong colors and only minor handling wear.

#92) Dr. LeGear’s Poultry Prescription: Unopened box with paper wrapper and original contents. “THE LAYING TONIC / A TESTED POULTRY REMEDY.” 7 ½” x 4 ½” x 2 ½”. Condition is very good with strong, bright colors. This is the 1 ½ pound, small size box. It will look great on a shelf or display stand like the stand in the advertising section of this auction.

#93) Dr. LeGear’s Poultry Worm Powder: This is only the second example of this remedy ever recorded. The first was sold in a McMurray auction in 2008, bringing $150. Box is unopened and retains original contents. 7” x 4 ½” x 2 ½”. Used in chickens and turkeys for large round worms. The paper wrapper has some minor losses along the right, top edge. Colors are bright and crisp. Scarce Dr. LeGear poultry remedy.

#94) Dr. LeGear’s Stock Powders: This is a very early example of this remedy. The box is unopened and contains the original contents. 7 ½” x 4 ½” x 2 ½”. The red color that originally outlined the front panel has faded with light exposure, however the yellow and blue colors stand out and the box displays very well. McMurray Auctions sold an example in 2012 for $130. This example still has appeal and will sell for your high bid.

#95) Dr. LeGear’s Stock Powders—Mineral-ized: This is a slightly later example from the previous lot. “A TESTED STOCK TONIC.” 7” x 4 ½” x 2 ½”. This box is in near mint condition and is unopened and retains its original contents. This is the small 25 cent size package.

#96) Dr. LeGear’s Healing Balm Liniment: “A VETERINARY PREPARATION.” Unopened bottle with paper label, contents, and partial box from Dr. J. G. Lesure of Keene, New Hampshire. 6 ½” x 2 ½” x 1 ½”. An astringent and healing lotion for livestock. The blood red label extends to three sides and is in excellent condition with just slight edge wear. To call the partial box pitiful, would be to give pitiful a bad name. What’s left is held together with scotch tape. At least it exists. The bottle is a killer example worthy of any collection.

#97) Munyon’s Veterinary Remedies: Very rare, embossed bottle from Munyon’s Homeopathic Home Remedy Company, primarily known for Human patent medicines. The bottle is embossed with animals (horse, cow, sheep, pig, poultry and what looks like a cat) and reads: MUNYONS / (ANIMALS) / VETERINARY / REMEDIES. I have never sold an example of this bottle previously. I have recorded two examples selling, none have had any label. Too my knowledge, no labeled examples exist in veterinary collections. A bottle collector may have one, but I have never seen or heard of one. There are a couple of tiny chippies to the bottle lip. 6 ½” x 2 ½” x 1/12”.

#98) Dr. Willis Myers’ Colic Remedy for Horses: Amber bottle with paper label and box from Wenona, Illinois. Bottle has labels on the front and reverse, both have minor wear. The box has a bottle label applied to the cardboard box. The box is complete with top seam damage and scuffing as seen. 5” x 2” x 1 ¼”. Blister and Ointment tins from this company are found in some quantity, however this is only the second bottled medicine, of any type, to be recorded. Label clearly states that the original contents contained Alcohol 80% and 6 grains of OPIUM.

#99) Nonpareil Louse Powder: Unopened canister with paper label and contents from the Bready Food Company of Fredrick, Maryland. Mr. W. C. Powell was the proprietor and that is probably his image on the label. 7” x 3 ½”. Stain can be seen along the bottom edge of the canister. This is the FIRST and ONLY example of this remedy or any remedy from this company I have recorded. It is unique until another comes along, if ever.

#100) Near’s Fly Oil: Half gallon, lithographed tin from the Banner Food Company of Auburn, New York. “Protects Your Stock from Flies, Lice and Vermin.” 8 ½” x 5” x 3”. Trade Mark image of live stock on front and reverse. Very good condition, with just a few minor chips and scratches to the paint.

#101) Pacific Gall Salve: Sealed cardboard box with tin enclosed from the Hoyt Chemical Company of Portland, Oregon. Paper label completely covers box and is still glued and unopened. One edge has a tear to the paper, but the tin remains hidden. The logo on the front panel is a rendition of “Pharaoh’s Horses.” This is the only example of this tin ever recorded. The consigner purchased it in our auction of 2011 for $85. The new owner may open this box and find an amazing lithographed tin or a simple paper label.

#102) Pratt’s Animal Regulator: Large, 50 cent box that is unopened and retains original contents. I have only recorded one previous example of this Regulator in the 50 cent size and that box was square. This rectangular box is unique to my “Compendium Prices Realized.” Condition is very good to excellent overall. There are some small wear areas along the top, side edges but these do not detract. Front panel is bright, colorful and displays quite impressively. 10” x 5 ½” x 2 ½”. Makes Stock Vigorous and Robust.
A page from a document with text about various medicinal bottles and their descriptions:

#103) Pratt’s Conditioner for Horses and Cattle: Large, unopened box with original contents from the Pratt Food Company of Philadelphia. 10 3/4 x 7 3/4 x 4”. Not a feed - A Conditioner. This produces a tonic action that stimulates the appetite and aids in proper digestion of livestock. Large and colorful box which does have a paper scuff on the front panel. This is the first example of this Pratt’s medicine that I have ever recorded. This is a 6 1/2 pound box that originally cost 60 cents.

#104) Pratt’s R-P Tablets: Colorful cardboard box with original contents used to treat Roup in poultry. 4” x 2” x 2”. Rooster pulling an egg wagon is the logo illustration. Top edge has some wear, but displays very well overall.

#105) Pratt’s Veterinary Colic Remedy: Embossed bottle with front and back paper labels and box. The bottle is embossed: PRATT FOOD CO // PHILADA U.S.A. 6 x 2 x 3 1/2”. The bottle contained two doses of medicine and is measured on the back label. One original ingredient listed on the label is Cannabis Indica. Patent medicines with listed controlled substances are cross collected by other bottle collectors. Bottle and labels are excellent. Box is missing top flaps and has some general wear. It still displays pretty well. Only one previous example of this medicine has ever been recorded with or without a box. Rare.

#106) Pulsifer’s Colic Cure: Bottle with four sided label from the Pulsifer Chemical Company of Boston. 4” x 1 1/4” x 1 1/4”. Nice detailed horse image on the horse on the front panel. This early company produced a complete line of veterinary remedies and glass front display cabinets, but few examples have survived. They obviously competed in the same early time period, in Boston, as Dr. Daniels and failed to meet his challenge. This early “Cure” is in excellent condition.

#107) PulveX Combination Treatment Worm Capsules for Puppies and Dogs: Oval, cardboard canister with metal lid and paper label from William Cooper & Nephews, Chicago. 3” x 2 3/4” x 1 1/2”. Used for Tapeworm, Round, and Hookworms. Cute little puppy on the front panel. Very good condition with only light handling wear.

#108) Q-W Flea Oil and Coat Dressing for Dogs and Cats: Unopened tin canister with paper label and contents from Q-W Laboratories of Bound Brook, New Jersey. 4” x 2 1/2”. Used to kill and keep off fleas and promote a rich hair coat. Minor discoloration at the bottom edge of the label. First and only example of this Flea remedy I have ever seen.

#109) Q-W Sarcoptic Mange Lotion: Unopened, amber bottle with full contents and wrap around paper label from Q-W Laboratories of Bound Brook, New Jersey. 5” x 2”. Used on dogs, cats, and foxes. Label presents well from the front with only a couple of edge dings to the paper. The reverse has a couple of large paper losses along the top edge that do not effect the printed directions. Only one previous example of this Mange Lotion has been recorded and that was way back in 1998. A nice, uncommon dog medicine to add to your collection.

#110) Ranger Flea Soap for Dogs: Unused soap bar in original wrapping inside cardboard box from Ranger Products Company, New Haven, CT. 3 1/2” x 2 1/2” x 1 3/4”. Strong red color on the box with a German Shepherd dog image. Box is complete and front panel displays well but it does have scuffs on the top and reverse. Nice dog soap.

#111) Ranger Eye Wash Tablets for Dogs: Bright red cardboard box with original contents from New Haven, CT. Used as a cleansing agent for discharging and running eyes in dogs. 2 3/4” x 2” x 3 1/4”. Excellent condition with very minor corner bumps. Only one previous example of this remedy has surfaced.

#112) Ranger Urinary Antiseptic Tablets for Dogs: Bright red cardboard box with original contents from New Haven, CT. Used in “abating certain urinary infections in dogs. 2 3/4” x 2” x 3 1/4”. There is an old grease pencil price of 50 cents on the front panel and a little more corner wear than the previous lot. Another scarce example of an unusual dog medicine.

#113) Rural Home Healing Powder: Metal shaker style canister with paper label, contents, and original lid from the Rural Home Chemical Company of Wellboro, Pennsylvania. 4 1/2” x 2 1/2”. Used for Harness Galls and open sores on horses. I have recorded only one other remedy from this company, a Rural Home Liniment that sold in 2011. This canister has a nice red label with black print and the logo of a horse head. Very good condition overall.

#114) Scarless Lice Killer and Insecticide: Cardboard canister from the Scarless Remedy Company of Winterset, Iowa. Very detailed poultry yard image on the front panel. 6 1/2” x 3 3/4”. This has been opened and emptied. Strong graphics and in very good condition. Displays well. “Lice Killer” name pre-dates the more common “Lice Powder” products.

#115) Sergeant’s Skip Flea Powder: Lithographed canister with a powder that is “SURE DEATH TO FLEAS, LICE AND DOG TICKS. Produced by the Polk Miller Company of Richmond, Virginia. 4 3/4” x 1 1/4”. Unopened and with original contents. Excellent condition overall with only very light handling wear. It still has the original shine on the metal.

#116) Spratt’s Flea and Insect Powder: Lithographed style tin from Spratt’s of Newark, New Jersey. This is the smaller of two sizes of this tin. 4 1/2” x 1 3/4” x 1”. St. Bernard Dog is on the front panel. Tin still retains its original metal cap. Tin is in good condition with a dent in the front panel and some scattered oxidation spots on the reverse.

#117) Talbott’s Cholera Treatment for Fowls: Unopened wooden canister with paper label from the W. R. Talbott Chemical Company of Sandusky, Ohio. 3 3/4” x 1 3/4”. Prepared from a prescription formulated by Dr. Jay W. Reeder, MDC, Chief of Veterinary Information Bureau of Talbott’s Chemical. Label has some handling wear, but this is the first and only example to come to light. Dog medicines from this company, in similar canisters, have sold for hundreds of dollars. Poultry meds are often a poor relation to dog meds, so bid as you see fit.

#118) Thedford’s Black-Draught Stock Medicine: Unopened canister with paper label and contents from the Chattanooga Medicine Company in Tennessee. 3 1/2” x 3 3/4”. This was used as a liver medicine for livestock. You have to go all the way back to 1999 to find the only previous example that is recorded. It brought $40. Condition is excellent overall. The Historical bottle Collectors will be holding their annual bottle show and convention in Chattanooga this summer. Be sure to add that to your summer schedule and attend.
