Advertising

#01) Austin’s Dog Bread Wooden Packing Crate: Wooden crate with advertising on both ends for Austin’s Dog Bread, “The Best Food for Dogs” from the Austin Dog Bread and Animal Food Company of Chelsea, Mass. 18” x 12” x 8”. Dog Bread was the first type of commercial dog food ever produced. It was a hard cracker type of product. I would date this crate to c1900. Very good condition.

#02) Dr. Claris’ Kronkine Stoneware Jug: One gallon advertising jug for Kronkine produced by Dr. Claris of Buffalo, New York. The black stencil, which was protected by a salt glaze when the jug was fired in a kiln, reads: KRONKINE / DR. CLARIS / BUFFALO, N. Y. Kronkine was used on horses, as a treatment for fever and other respiratory diseases. The jug is 12” tall and 6 ¾” wide at the base. The jug has its original handle on the back. The condition is excellent overall. There are some tiny chippies along the top edge of the spout and two "microscopic" hairlines on the backside of the spout. All this is mentioned for completeness, as the jug is completely stable and original. Dr. Claris as well as other stoneware jugs were documented in a recent article in the VCR Newsletter. Only one previous Kronkine jug as ever been offered in VCR auctions and it resulted in a bidding war between two collectors who had to have it. It brought in excess of $3000. I would give this example a realistic estimate of $500-1000, but you never know what might happen in an auction. The opening bid will be $300 and you can take it from there.

#03) CAREY-IZED Stock Tonic Brick Cardboard Advertising Display: Die-cut, three-dimensional, stand up display with an easel back and having three (3) sizes of original brick packages attached to the front of the display, creating a stack of original packaging. This was produced, by the Carey Salt Company, Hutchinson, Kansas. The overall size is 28" x 19 1/2" x 7". This would have been a point of purchase display in a country store. The advertising reads, "LET THE ANIMALS DOCTOR THEMSELVES." This salt brick was sold as a "Worm Destroyer and General Conditioner." Several companies sold medicated salt bricks to treat horses and cattle but this is the only item, advertising or medicated brick, that I have ever seen from the Carey Salt Company. It is large, colorful and impressive with the 3-D effect of the stacked boxes. The condition overall is very good, but the back display does have edge and corner wear and some minor damp stain. The overall effect is still very impressive and the minor wear does not distract in my opinion. The stacked boxes also have a little wear at the corners and bottom. Your collection can be "CAREY-IZED" if you’re the high bidder on this currently, unique display. Opening bid is $100.

#04) Dr. Daniels’ "Dog Judge" Window Card: Cardboard window card advertising Dr. Daniels’ Medicines. Window cards were just that, advertising that was placed in the window of a store to entice people to come into the store and shop. Usually window cards had some slogan printed on the cardboard backing and had a color print related to the slogan. In this example the print dated 1919, of a dog seated and dressed as a Judge, is by Charles Coolidge. Coolidge is famous for this type of dog painting, including his well known series of poker playing dogs. The Judge has made his ruling: I’VE LISTENED TO ALL THE EVIDENCE AND AWARD THE VERDICT TO DR. A. C. DANIELS MEDICINES / THEY ARE THE BEST. The card is in MINT CONDITION and is framed under UV glass. The overall size is 11 ¼" x 14 ½". Ten to Twelve years ago about every VCR auction had a Dr. Daniels’ window card of some type that sold in the $300-700 range. Since that time, they have all disappeared into collections and I have not had an example to offer since 2000. Based on scarcity, condition, previous sales years ago, and interest of the image, I would estimate this window card at $500-800. This perfect example, already framed, will start at $300.

#05) Dr. Daniels’ Warranted Veterinary Medicines Lithographed, Tin Front Cabinet: Superior Quality is the adjective I came up with to describe the paint on this cabinet door. I have seen a lot of Dr. Daniels’ cabinets in the last 30 years and I’m going to tell you, this is about as bright and original a door panel as you will ever see. EVER! Dr. Daniels’ produced three slightly different cabinets with his image and medicines over the years. This is considered the first (and earliest) example as it does not have the Witch Hazel medicine listed at the bottom, which is printed on the second generation cabinets. The wooden cabinet itself is original, as the first generation cabinets have a very detailed vine carving into the wood on the sides of the cabinet. Inside, the back panel has a stencil stating that this cabinet was to be used only for Dr. Daniels’ medicines. The original lock and escutcheon are in place, but no key. The cabinet has been refinished, there have been supportive repairs to the back panel, and the original wooden finishing slats holding the metal panel have been replaced inside the door. On the tin front, there has been professional touch up to two minor scratches in the Worm Killer package image and just below the package, in the printed Worm Killer listing. Because of the overall quality and brightness of the paint, you really have to look very closely to spot this touch-up. Without this, I would grade this tin a solid 9 out of 10. If you are looking to buy a Dr. Daniels’ cabinet, you would be hard pressed to ever find a nicer, cleaner example. I would estimate this cabinet at $2000-3000 and start the bidding at $1200. If you buy this for $1200, you will get the deal of a lifetime.

#06) Dr. Cox’ s Barb Wire Liniment Sign: Framed, cardboard sign advertising Dr. Cox’s Liniment produced in Carlisle, Indiana. The sign is 20" x 15" and is mounted in a slightly larger frame. The sign features a very detailed illustration of the Barb Wire Liniment package. Condition is excellent and it very graphic with the sharp contrast between the black and yellow colors. Our last auction featured a Dr. Cox’s Barb Wire Liniment wooden thermometer, with the package, that did very well. This sign is ready to hang on the wall with no additional framing cost involved. Opening bid is $100.

#07) Conkey’s Poultry Service Station Metal, Double-Sided Flange Sign: This painted metal sign from the Conkey’s Company of Cleveland features their iconic “SICK CHICKEN” logo. Conkey’s produced a complete line of Livestock and Poultry Veterinary Remedies. This double-sided sign has a flange at one end, so when mounted on a wall, the sign extends OUT from the wall. 20 1/2" x 14". The paint on both sides is crisp, shiny, and as new. It does not look like this sign was ever hung out in the weather. There are two small chips on one side and very minor wear along the top edge that is ONLY apparent under close examination. Viewed from five feet away, the sign looks to be in mint condition. Check out the medicine section of this auction for the largest collection of Conkey’s medicines ever offered at one time. This sign is a great addition to any collection. The opening bid is $200.

#08) Bureka Stock Food Poster: Turn of the Century lithographed advertising poster with three "Snow Bunnies" dressed in their winter finery. The detail to their faces and dress is just amazing. The advertising is for EUREKA STOCK FOOD, The Great Flesh Producer from the Shadrer Drug Company of Iowa City, Iowa. Image size is 14 1/2" x 19 1/2". This outstanding poster was sold in a VCR auction in 2003 where it brought $400. Since then, it has undergone professional conservation, including de-acidification, mounting, minor professional restoration to the "G" in "DRUG," and is currently framed (with UV glass) and matted in colors to add to the overall appeal of this poster. Total size is: 21 1/2" x 27". The conservation of this poster insures that it will survive for another Century at least. Since this poster sold 10 years ago, I have not seen another example for sale. I would estimate, just the poster, at $800-1200 today. We will open the bidding at $400. At that price, the conservation and frame job would be free to you. You will not be disappointed.

#09) Hamlin’s Wizard Oil Lithographed Poster: Truly phenomenal c1890 lithograph for Hamlin’s Wizard Oil. The poster was printed by the Calvert Litho Company of Detroit, which was founded in the 1860’s and by the 1890’s was one of the largest lithographers in the country. It is printed on the diagonal, so that it hangs with the point up. Very detailed image of a Retriever type dog with a blue bandage wrapped around his paw. The paw is held up in the air as if he is unable to bear weight on it. The young lad, in c1890 dress, is pointing out that HAMLIN’S WIZARD OIL CURES ALL ACHES AND PAINS. The boy’s other arm is wrapped lovingly around the dog to assure him that his injured paw will soon be cured. The overall, framed size is 21" x 21” with the image size being 13 ½” x 13 ½”. The consigner purchased this poster in a VCR Auction in 2003 for $2700. Since that time, he had professional conservation done to a very tiny edge tear, had the poster de-acidified, mounted, and framed and matted in an archival manner with UV glass. The poster is as clean and bright as the day it was printed over 100 years ago. The consigner told me that this was his favorite poster and that he had enjoyed it for ten years. He is retired and moving to smaller quarters and it is time to pass it along to the next caretaker. We are going to ask a starting reserve of $1000 and after that, it will sell to the highest bidder.

#10 Humphreys’ Homeopathic Veterinary Specifics Stable Case, NEARLY COMPLETE: Wooden stable case including ten (10) medicines, glass dose dropper, Humphreys’ hard back manual book, Humphreys’ Stable Chart, and nine (9) cardboard boxes for Humphreys’ medicine bottles. The only item missing is the wide mouth glass cure oil jar. Overall the condition of everything is excellent and makes a fantastic display when this complete. The paper label in the top of the case is complete and just has a couple of drip stains. A complete set of medicines, A.A through J. K., is included and have excellent to mint paper labels. The Glass dropper is very scarce and has sold for over $100 itself. The Hard back Manual book is over 400 pages and in excellent condition. The Stable Chart is folded and was included, originally in the Manual book. The chart has two minor tears near the top. If you were to price all these items separately, you would have a retail value of well over $500. The opening bid here is $150. I have seen less complete sets offered online for over $1000. Good value here.

#11 Humphreys’ Veterinary Specifics, “Barnyard Scene” Tin Front Display Cabinet: Wooden cabinet with a lithographed tin insert in the front door, from the Humphreys’ Homeopathic Medicine Company of New York. This is a very scarce and desirable cabinet that we call “The Barnyard Scene” for obvious reasons. The top image has male and female horses, cows, sheep, hogs, rabbits, chickens, along with a dog, and a cat nursing kittens. Below the barnyard scene is a list of Humphreys Veterinary Specifics and the ailments they would CURE. I would date this cabinet to c1900 due to the “CURE” wording. The cabinet is 28” x 22” x 9” and looks to be in original condition and not refinished. This cabinet was noted for having both an opening front door, but also an opening back door. There are four original shelves inside and hook and eye closures for the doors. In general, these cabinets have suffered from extensive flaking and toning of the paint over the years. Many examples have been restored because of these problems. THIS CABINET DOES NOT SUFFER FROM PAINT FLAKING and the BACKGROUND WHITE PAINT IS VERY BRIGHT AND CLEAN. Now the paint is not perfect, there is some red color loss to a few of the red letters and scattered minor wear, but this tin is as good or better than any example I have ever sold. The only real damage is that a piece of the wooden base has splintered off, but you really have to open the front door to even notice this. Also, the back door was nailed shut a long time ago and has some minor damage. Again not a big deal and mentioned for completeness. As for value, I sold an example is 1999 for $6100 plus the 10% and in 2010 I sold a restored example for $3000 plus the 10%. Today, I would estimate this outstanding example at $4000-6000. The consigner has requested a minimum reserve of $3000 and I think that is a very fair opening bid.

#12 International Stock Food Poster #36, “Schooley’s Beauty”: This is a LARGE FORMAT Poster at 28” x 21” showing “Schooley’s Beauty”, a Durocky Juvet sows, nursing her litter of eleven (11) piglets. Great image of all those little piggies’ rear ends, I especially like the piglet on the far left, who has crawled under the legs of its littler mate so as not to be left out of the nursing. The details on the colorful and bright poster bring your eye back time and again. “Beauty” raised five litters and 55 piglets while dammed. The poster was never folded, so there are no fold lines to deal with and no edge tears or staining. The only deficiency from mint original condition is a bit of color fade to the red border of the main image, otherwise all the colors are crisp and bright. This certainly does not detract from the display of this great poster. This poster is currently framed in a plain black frame. Because of its large size and possibility of breaking the glass during shipping, I would advise either shipping this poster rolled in a tube and reframe it yourself, arrange to pick up the poster, or having it professionally packed and shipped. I can discuss these options with the new owner. This is one of three examples I have ever recorded and we will start the bidding at $200, just to get the ball rolling. My estimate would be $500-1000. The artist captured an image of those little piglets that appeals to every animal lover. I promise you will love this poster.

#13 International Stock Food Poster #38, “Hog Fattener”: This is another LARGE FORMAT Poster at 28” x 21” showing a huge black hog eating corn cobs. This image is related to the testimonial from a farmer in Bennington, Kansas that is printed at the bottom of this poster. It seems Mr. Ostrander wanted to test the effectiveness of International Stock Food for himself. He purchased the “scrubbiest pig I could find.” “This little runt was eight months old and weighed ten pounds and was the worst looking specimen of a runt you ever saw.” BUT, (drum roll) after eating ISF for eight months she weighed 500 pounds. The poster has been professionally mounted on artist board and has the old fold lines in the poster smoothed out. They really did an excellent job. The fold lines are barely visible. There is just the tiniest of paper separation at a couple of the fold lines in the testimonial section of the poster. No other damage is noted. Overall it is BIG, BRIGHT, and BOLD, just like the hog in the image. I cannot find any records of this poster having been sold previously. As with the previous poster, this example is framed in a plain black frame and we will discuss shipping options with the new owner. I would estimate this poster at $300-500 and start the bidding at $100.

#14 French’s Bird Seed and Bird Biscuit Wooden Packing Crate: Wooden crate with advertising on all four sides from the R. T. French Company of Rochester, New York. Think French’s Mustard and you have the same company. Crate is dove-tailed and is 12 ½” square and 10 ½” tall. It does have a couple of mouse holes in two sides, at the top. I think this adds character. I sold this crate in 2000 for $35.00. Worth today? You be the judge.

#15 Dr. LeGear’s Dog Prescription Metal Display: Metal, point of purchase display for Dr. LeGear’s Dog Medicines. The front has slots and spaces for 15 medicines, the right side has a holder for Dog Medicine booklets, and the back has storage shelves. The condition of this example is a little worn with the paper name plaques on the front stained and dark. The top, front panel is dented and shows some paint loss. The metal can be cleaned up somewhat, as it is dirty. Fill this with Dr. LeGear’s Dog Medicines and the stained name plaques will not be visible. 12” x 12” x 16”. The last example, with medicines, brought $3400, so even in this lesser condition it is a rare and desirable display. Seldom available in any condition, this could be a bargain for the savvy collectors, who gets in the last bid.
#16) Mansfield’s Magic Food Wooden Display Stand: Mansfield’s Magic Food Company was operated from Chattanooga, Tennessee and their history was recorded in the VCR of February 2002. This completely original stand would have been placed in a store and filled with boxes and bottles of Mansfield’s Veterinary Remedies. The stand retains its embossed metal sign at the top. It still has its original yellow paint and the black stenciling along the outside of both legs. The stencil reads: MAGIC FOOD FOR STOCK & POULTRY. 36” x 21” x 8”. The wooden stand is solid and undamaged. The metal Magic Food sign has seen some wear along the edge and paint, but the overall effect is one of authenticity and normal age. I have only seen a few of these stands and this one, condition wise, is better than most. I saw one sell at the Indianapolis Advertising Show a year ago for over $600 and it was not nearly as nice as this example. A stand like this, filled with medicine boxes, really adds to a collection. People are always drawn to the “MAGIC” name. I estimate this stand at $400-600+ and will start at $200.

#17) Merchant’s Gargling Oil Liniment Lithographic Poster: Very early paper poster c1890 showing three horses drinking at a stone trough. Merchant’s Gargling Oil is considered to be the first mass produced veterinary patent medicine in America. It was produced by a druggist in Lockport, New York, and used to treat the horses pulling barges down the Erie Canal. It was so successful that it was shipped all over the World and eventually was marketed for Humans as a Man or Beast Liniment. This early poster is typical of the quality and detail put into early lithography. The poster has been professionally de-acidified and mounted. It is currently framed with a double mat and has UV glass. The condition is excellent, clean and bright. It was probably the top to an early calendar. It displays exceptionally well and is ready to hang on your wall. Image size is 14 ½” x 8” and overall size is 20” x 14”.
Early advertising from this first veterinary patent medicine is very scarce. Opening bid is just $200. McMurray’s Drug Store Auction sold a poster with the same image in 2011 for $2300.

#18) Morrison’s English Veterinary Remedies Glass Front Display Cabinet: Wooden cabinet with original black stencil and curved pediment that was produced by the James Foster Company of Bath, New Hampshire. No history has been unearthed as to why Mr. Foster named his line of veterinary remedies, “Morrison’s English Veterinary Remedies,” but the fact is, he did. The company was in a very small town in upstate New Hampshire. Several years ago, I visited Bath, NH and found that the original brick building was still standing and you could still read the faded company name painted on the side of the building. This cabinet was produced c1900. 28” x 16” x 8 ½”. The original stencil is on the pediment and door. The cabinet was painted white at some point in its life and had a mirror in the door. Most likely, it was used as a medicine chest. The consigner, recognizing this as a veterinary cabinet, dry scraped the paint off the exterior to reveal the original stencil. The interior still has the white paint and there is currently no glass in the door (easily cut at any hardware store). The door knob is an addition. The last cabinet example we sold, from this company, brought $900, but the starting price on this one will be only $200. Glass front cabinets are a wonderful way to display your bottles and other veterinary medicines in an authentic way.

#19) Pratt’s Poultry Regulator Wooden Bucket: Wooden bucket that once held 25 pound of Poultry Regulator. Front and back paper label are still in place and while toned, are almost complete. Bucket has its original bale handle, but is missing the lid. Wooden buckets, as complete as this example are very hard to find, as they were not meant to survive on the farm. Front label has the Rooster pulling an egg cart logo image. 12” x 13 ½”. I sold a Stock Regulator Bucket way back in 1997 for $140, but I have never sold a Poultry Regulator bucket. Start the bidding at $35 and go from there.

#20) Purina Veterinary INSECT POWDER / CHEK-R-TON Sign: This is the first of four (4) cardboard signs advertising veterinary products produced by the Ralston Purina company of St. Louis, Missouri. Each sign is double sided with a different product advertised on each side. 21” x 19”.

- The signs were originally intended to hang from string, in a store, as each has three original holes along the top edge for this purpose. All four sign are in unused condition with just handling wear and a corner bump here and there. Condition of each example is excellent. This example has Purina Veterinary INSECT POWDER, for HOME and PETS, on one side and CHEK-R-TON for Chickens and Turkeys on the reverse. Opening bid on each sign is $25.00

#21) Purina Veterinary TETSULES / CRE-SO-FEC Sign: See description of the above lot, as all these sign are the same size and condition and only differ as to the products they advertise. This example has Purina Veterinary TETSULE, for worming birds, on one side and CRE-SO-FEC Dip and Disinfectant on the reverse. Opening bid on each sign is $25.00

#22) Purina Veterinary PIGSULES / LICE POWDER Sign: See description of the above lot, as all these sign are the same size and condition and only differ as to the products they advertise. This example has Purina Veterinary PIGSULES, for worming Hogs, on one side and LICE POWDER DUST for poultry & livestock on the reverse. Opening bid on each sign is $25.00

#23) Purina Veterinary ROOST PAINT / CHLORENA POWDER Sign: See description of the above lot, as all these sign are the same size and condition and only differ as to the products they advertise. This example has Purina Veterinary ROOST PAINT, for poultry lice, on one side and CHLORENA POWDER to disinfect Poultry and Dairy equipment on the reverse. Opening bid on each sign is $25.00

#24) Ricksecker’s Dog Soap, Framed Advertising Card: Cardboard advertising card dated 1885 for Ricksecker’s Dog Soap. Card is framed, double matted, has UV glass, and is framed with a glass reverse, so the advertising on the back of the card can be read. Total size is 8” x 10”. According to the card, Ricksecker’s Dog Soap “KILLS FLEAS / CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES / GIVES GLOSS TO THE COAT / REMOVES ALL SMELL.” What more could you ask for in a dog soap. Excellent, bright condition showing a young girl washing a white dog while other pets wait their turn. Companion piece for the following lot as the dog, sitting up, to the right edge and paint, but the overall effect is one of authenticity and normal age. I have only seen a few of these stands and this one, condition wise, is better than most. I saw one sell at the Indianapolis Advertising Show a year ago for over $600 and it was not nearly as nice as this example. A stand like this, filled with medicine boxes, really adds to a collection. People are always drawn to the “MAGIC” name. I estimate this stand at $400-600+ and will start at $200.

#25) Ricksecker’s Dog Soap Statue: Wonderful folk art statue of a Bulldog style dog having a short snout and cropped ears. This was a point of purchase display piece, sitting on the counter, of a store selling Ricksecker Dog Soap. The dog is made of a hard reddish terra cotta material. It is not chalk, which would be a later material. The dog has glass eyes and would date to about 1890-1910. Most glass eyes were made in Germany and imported for toys and dolls. At the start of World War I, the importation stopped with the war with Germany. The paint looks original and has appropriate wear patterns. He has minor wear along the edges of the base, but no significant damage. He is quite impressive and for over 100 years of age he is holding up very well indeed. 10 ¾” x 5” x 5”. Three-dimensional advertising figures for veterinary products are very rare and as such, add a great deal to any collection. Imagine this fellow among a nice collection of dog soaps, what a display he would make. The consigner paid well over a $1000 for this guy and I would estimate him at $1000-2000. The opening bid will be $750 and if you’re the lucky high bidder, you can give him a new home. One additional note: A Ricksecker Dog Soap statue was included in the museum exhibition, PETS IN AMERICA, which traveled to various museums for over three years. So he is indeed, museum quality!!

#26) Sergeant’s Dog Medicine Metal Display Cabinet: Lithographed, metal cabinet from the Polk Miller Company of Richmond, Virginia. They were and still are the makers of Sergeant’s Dog Medicines. “Sergeant” was the name of Polk Miller’s favorite dog, so he named his medicine after the dog, 14” x 13” x 7”. This example shows two orphan puppies cuddled together looking forlorn and sad. The slogan, printed to their left is, “NO MOTHER TO GUIDE THEM.” Both sides have the advertising, “The premier dog medicines for 50 years.” This cabinet would date to the 1930’s. The back of the cabinet has two doors, which open up into an interior used to store the medicines. I would judge the condition as very good to excellent as the only damage is two screw holes on either side of the name, “Sergeant” s. This cabinet was obviously mounted on a wall with the image side hidden and the cabinet used for some type of storage. This action saved the image from damage by wear or fading from light exposure. It does have some minimal edge wear, but displays great. These are very scarce as this is the fifth example I have recorded, from all sources, in 19 years of record keeping. SOLD WITHOUT RESERVE but I would estimate it at $500-700.

#27) Dr. Weare’s Heave Cure Sign: Early, colorful cardboard sign from Dr. Weare of Fairport, New York. The history of Dr. Weare and his veterinary patent medicine company was documented in the December 2005 edition of VCR. This outstanding, and possibly unique sign shows an emaciated horse with a projectile cough, snotty nose, and foaming at the mouth. No doubt the Heaves have caused his distress and he is crying giant tears due to his not having Dr. Weare’s Heave Cure to set him right. A little dog, sitting at the base of the fence, is barking at his distress. The sign is currently in an old frame. The sight size of the sign is 19 ½” x 11 ½”. The sign does have some condition issues as this was probably cut down from a larger advertisement. It has some very light damp stain along the border in places, and two small holes. I think you will agree that the graphics, color, and rarity of this sign far out way the condition issues. It is just a very cool sign with the crying horse image and a sign I have never seen or heard of in over 30 years of collecting. I have nothing to compare this to, as for value, so we are opening the bidding at $100 and it will seek its correct level. Good Luck.

#28) Veterinary Stock Powder Dose Cups, Lot of Two (2): Two different metal cups for measuring and dosing veterinary powders. The first is for Dr. LeGears’ Stock Powders and is embossed with this into the bottom of the cup. Excellent condition. The second is a metal cup with a handle from Moorman’s and is embossed on the bottom of the cup, “MOORMAN’S COW MINTRATE.” Very good condition, but could stand a little clean up. Lot of Two (2).
#35) Max Wocher & Son Veterinary Instrument and Supplies Catalog: Paper back catalog of sixty pages from this Cincinnati, Ohio firm. The catalog is undated and the firm advertises that they were established 1837. Based solely on the catalog’s look and illustrations, I would date this to c1890-1900. 6” x 9 ¼”. The cover is smudged and has damage to the upper right corner. This corner damage extends to the first few pages, but does not affect the print or any illustrations. Covers are firmly attached to the spine. According to Trenton Boyd’s research in his paper, “The Lost History of American Veterinary Medicine: The Need for Preservation,” only five (5) catalogs, in three (3) different editions, from this company are held in Libraries across America. This catalog is undated, so I do not know if this particular edition is even recorded. All the offerings, in the catalog are fully illustrated and have their price as of its printing. Very rare veterinary instrument catalog from an obscure company.

Letterhead, Envelops, Flyers & Blotters

#36) Envelope with Dr. Claris’ Veterinary Advertising: Envelope from E. L. Brawley a dealer in horse goods and wagons from New Bedford, Mass. Under the engraved horse at left is the caption, “AGENT FOR DR. J. T. CLARIS’ VETERINARY REMEDIES.” This is not the most glamorous Dr. Claris’ advertising, but his material is very scarce and highly collected. I have never seen any other such Agent advertising for Dr. Claris’. Excellent condition.

#37) Dr. Cobb, M. D. C. Envelope: Business envelope from Dr. George H. Cobb, M. D. C, Veterinary, Livery and Sale Stable in Housatonic, Mass. Envelope is dated 1919. The M. D. C, abbreviation stands for Medical Doctor Comparative and was only issued by the Chicago Veterinary College, a private veterinary college in Chicago, Illinois. Envelope opened at top. Scarce to find any graduation advertising with the M. D. C. designation.

#38) Dr. Hess & Clark Original Group: This paper grouping, dated 1936 from Ashland, Ohio, consists of an advertising envelope with large logo at left end, letterhead pertaining to Dr. Hess Fly Spray, and Fly Spray booklet. All three pieces are in excellent condition.

#39) SAL-VET Letterhead, Lot of Three (3): Three different, one page letters from the Feil Manufacturing Company of Cleveland, makers of SAL-VET brand veterinary remedies, to the LeBars Drug Store in Stroudsburg, PA. dated 1919. All have a multi-colored logo printed on the back of each page. All have original hole punches at the top, otherwise excellent.

#40) Dr. Selzer, Veterinary Surgeon Grouping: Three piece paper grouping from Dr. Harvey Seltzer, Veterinary Surgeon and graduate of the American Veterinary College in 1885 who was practicing in Lebanon, Pennsylvania. #1) Advertising envelope with his name, address, and graduation information. #2) Cardboard business card with horse image stating that he “TREATS ALL CURIBLE DISEASES OF DOMESTICATED ANIMALS.” #3) Four page folded flyer with additional information about his specialty in treating dogs and offering his CONDITION POWDERS AND SWEENEY CURE for sale. Very good to excellent condition overall. Unique original group.

#41) Pratt’s Food Company Advertising Receipts, Lot of 18: Group of Eighteen (18) paper receipts related to Pratt’s Veterinary Remedies. Four different examples, so fifteen are from the same company and three others are all different. The earliest example is from 1900 and the latest 1933. All have good color but do have holes where they were pushed on to an old desk receipt holder.

#42) Pair of Flyers, Lot of Two (2): Two, one-page, advertising flyers about 8” x 10 each. #1) Dr. P. J. Axtell, Veterinarian from Deposit, New York and a Cornell Graduate. #2) 20th Century Horse and Cattle Powder from Allentown, PA. Both have edge wear, one has stains. Lot of Two.

#43) Group of Flyers and Mixed Paper Items, Lot of Five (5): This lot contains one page advertising flyers for: BIGLER’S CONDITION POWDERS; DAVIS CONDITION POWDERS; BICKMORE GALL SALVE; KENDALL’S SPAVIN TREATMENT and a cardboard spinning “Animal Birthday Calendar” from Blatchford’s Animal Feed. Five items in total.

Photographs, Post Cards & Trade Cards

#44) Anatomy Class Dissection Photograph: Vintage albumin print on an old cardboard backing showing eight students posed while dissecting a horse. 5” x 7”. Three students are holding surgical instruments and posed as if dissecting. Two students, in the center, are examining what would be their anatomy book. Two are staring at the camera while the gentleman in the checkered coat seems to be examining his hands. There is no identification as to the veterinary college where this was taken, but it would be c1890 based on the clothing of the students. Clear, sharp image with just minor stain on the extreme right edge that does not impact the image. Dissection photographs such as this were typical of the time and students often sent them home to the family or had them reproduced as post cards.

#45) Vintage Student Horse Surgery Photograph: This is appears to be a staged photo rather than an actual, in progress, horse surgery. The horse is restrained and laying on its side while four men (students?) kneel around its head. Two of the men are holding instruments of some type. The rest of the crowd is gathered around, intently looking at what is happening to the horse. Two men are dressed in coat and tie and are probably professors. One student, in the center, is staring directly at the camera. The background has a chalkboard, horse equipment, and an anvil. 8” x 10” and not mounted. I date this image in the 1920-30 time period and no location can be determined. Minor paper losses on the edges. Image is clear and crisp.

#46) Veterinary Building, University of Pennsylvania: Unused, real photo post card showing the exterior of the Veterinary Building at Penn. Two men, possibly students are standing beside the large door. This is the type of image students had produced to send home to the family. Excellent condition.

#47) Pratts Food Post Card: Advertising post card for “Pratt’s Food. The Original Stock Food of America.” The card was used and postmarked 1907. It shows two mules looking at a box of Pratt’s Food and the caption reads, “Say Zack—THAT’S the stuff that makes you feel like a horse.” An example of species envy, no doubt. This is one of a set of ten advertising cards by Pratt’s. Very good condition with minimal corner bumps.

#48) Rawleigh’s Stock and Poultry Tonic Post Card: Unused, real photo post card of a Rawleigh’s Remedies traveling salesman and his painted wagon. Painted on the side of his wagon, in the front, is “STOCK TONIC / POULTRY TONIC.” The print is clearly visible. This is a card I have not seen before and documents the era of the traveling patent medicine salesman. Card has some scuffs along the bottom edge and some smudges on the reverse. Rare card for the collector who likes vintage images.

#49) Dr. David Roberts Post Card: Unused, color post card from Dr. David Roberts of Waukesha, Wisconsin. Dr. Roberts’ image is at right and his “Model Dairy Barn” is on the left. Dr. Roberts produced and sold a long line of veterinary remedies throughout his colorful career from State Veterinarian to Prison time. Slight edge wear to card.

#50) Veterinary Colleges, Lot of Two (2): Two, postmarked color post cards. #1) Ontario Veterinary College in Guelph, Ontario, Canada. #2) Cornell Veterinary College in Ithaca, New York. The consigner, a post card dealer, told me he had never seen the Ontario card in over 40 years of dealing post cards. Both in excellent condition.

#51) Veterinary Related Post Cards, Lot of Four (4): #1) Humphrey Veterinary Specifics (No Date). #2) People’s Horse and Cattle Powder (1879). #3) Dr. E. G. Gilbert, Veterinary Surgeon, Pottstown, PA. (1893) #4) Pitman-Moore Company (1947). All are in nice condition.

Booklets

#52) Barker’s Illustrated Almanac Farm Guide, 1932: Almanac from the Barker, Moore, and Mein Company of Philadelphia advertising their Barker’s Horse and Cattle Powder and Veterinary Liniment. Booklet has 27 pages of illustrations, cartoon, and magic tricks. 5 ¼” x 7”. Spine is torn at bottom 3”, but is still snuggly attached to the booklet. Colorful covers and interesting contents.

#53) Cary’s Family Receipt Book: This is a 30 page advertising booklet put out by H. G. O. Cary, Druggist and Chemist from Zanesville, Ohio. Mr. Cary manufactured and sold many patent medicines, but the two he advertised the most were Cary’s Buckeye Condition Powders for horses and cattle and Barrell’s Indian Liniment for Humans and Horses. 4” x 7”. This booklet also includes information that you would also find in almanacs. Testimonials inside are dated in the 1870’s. Several pages of advertising related to the treatment of horses with Mr. Cary’s medicines. Booklet is in good condition with damp stains and wear. I have seen many trade cards for Buckeye Condition Powders, but never this Receipt Book.

#54) Dr. Clayton’s Treatise on the Cat: Scarce, thirty page booklet detailing disease diagnosis and treatment for cats with Dr. Clayton’s Cat Medicines. 5” x 6 ¼”. Cover is clean and bright with just a trace of handling wear. The interior pages are crisp and look unused. Many illustrations of Champion Cats. Excellent overall. I sold the last example in 2004.

#55) Dr. Clayton’s Treatise on All Breeds of Dogs: Undated booklet from Dr. G. W. Clayton, V. S. of Chicago. Booklet contains 32 pages of disease diagnosis and treatment of dogs along with numerous illustrations. 5” x 7”. Cover is slightly creased vertically. Pages are very clean and crisp with some tiny soft corner tips.

#56) The Cat Doctor, by Dr. A. C. Daniels: Iconic veterinary patent medicine booklet that every collection should have. Dated 1911, this booklet is printed to resemble a hardback book and contains 32 pages of cat care, disease diagnosis, and treatment with Dr. Daniels’ cat remedies. 5 ¼” x 7 ½”. The cover has great color, but does have some spine wear. Wonderful image on the front and a full color catnip ad on the reverse.

#57) Dr. Daniels’ The Dog Doctor: Bulldog on cover of this 1911 booklet detailing treatment of dogs with Dr. Daniels’ remedies. Booklet is 72 pages, 5 ½” x 7 ½”, and printed to look like a hardback book. Interior pages are clean with only some minor dog eared corner tips. Front cover is slightly faded. Back cover shows a girl treating her dog with Dr. Daniels’ Remedies that are in the early packages offered in this auction. Classic Veterinary booklet.

#58) Glover’s For Your Dog: Small advertising booklet from Dr. H. Clay Glover for his dog medicines. Booklet is dated 1937 and has 12 illustrated pages showing the packaging and use for each of his dog medicines. 4” x 4 ½”. Excellent condition with very minimal wear. This is a Glover’s Dog Medicine booklet I can not remember seeing before.

#59) Young’s New Guide to Horse Owners / The Complete Horse Doctor: The booklet is not dated, but appears to be c1890. It has 72 pages of horse care, everything you need to know from aging, buying, feeding, and doctoring your horse. I especially like the cure for “Grape Legs.” I have never heard of that ailment before. 5” x 7 ½”. The interior pages are crisp and in mint condition. The only flaw is paper loss to the right lower corner of the front cover. Scarce, early booklet in outstanding condition.

Patent Medicines

We are starting this section with the first half of a very large collection of Dog Soaps. There should be something for everyone in this group and a chance to start your collection or significantly add to it. The final part of the collection will be sold in the September auction.

#60) 5 Minute Dog Soap: Cardboard box with original, slightly used soap bar from the House of Huston. Wire Hair Fox Terriers on the front panel. “KILLS FLEAS IN 5 MINUTES.” 3 ¼” x 2 ¼” x 1 ¼”. Minor scuffing and handling wear on sides and back.

I have not recorded any previous offerings of this Stock Food box, so this is the premier example to be offered. Bid as you see fit.
"Give your cat a bag filled with this and WATCH HIM PLAY."

#79) Blackman’s Medicated Lick-A-Brik: Unopened, original cardboard box with a tonic and conditioner salt brick for horses, cattle, mules, and sheep from the Blackman Stock Medicine Company of Chattanooga, TN. 7½” x 3½” x 2” . “STOCK LICK IT / STOCK LIKE IT” was their slogan. Image on the front of horse dosing itself by licking the brick. Excellent condition. If you have a Blackman’s wooden display stand, this is the perfect box for you. Beware that this box has been copied, in paper, and wrapped around a wooden block to simulate an original box. Don’t be fooled.

#80) Buckeye Gall Cure Free Sample: Round, lithographed, free sample tin with contents from the Buckeye Company of Lorain, Ohio. 1¼” x 5/8”. This is first early example of this Gall Cure free sample to be reported. I have sold two examples of Buckeye Gall Salve free samples. I have never seen a full size tin of either medicine. Printed on the side is the slogan: GUARANTEED TO CURE WHILE HE WORKS. Excellent condition having only minimal wear, mostly on the side. Rare and early Gall Cure Free Sample.

#81) Dr Cady’s Condition Powders for Horses: Unopened box with paper wrapper and original contents from the Chamberlain Medicine Company of Des Moines, Iowa. 5” x 3” x 2”. Used as a Tonic, Alterative and Diuretic in horses. Side panel has the 1906 Drug Act disclosure information. Reverse has an image of a man galloping on a horse. Light stain and fly specks, otherwise original condition with no damage to the box.

#82) Calves Cordial: Unopened cardboard box with contents from Our Husbands MFG. Company of Lyndon, VT. Used for common scours, bloody scours, and white scours in cows and calves and is advertised as “free if it fails.” 6” x 3 ½” x 2”. Excellent condition, clean and bright.

#83) Clayton’s Fit Remedy for Cats: Unopened glass bottle with paper label, contents, box and paper inserts from Dr. G. W. Clayton of Chicago. Used “FOR FITS IN GROWN CATS AND KITTENS.” 4” x 1 ½” x 1 ¼”. Dr. Clayton was one of the first manufacturers of veterinary patent medicines to produce a line of medicines labeled solely for cats and kittens. Bottle is in mint condition. Box is missing top flaps and has some tape supporting the inside top edge. Five previous examples have been recorded in the last 14 years (last one 2007) with an average selling price of $160. Cat medicines are scarce and always in demand by collectors.

#84) Clayton’s Alterative Pills for Dogs: Cardboard box with original contents. This was a Tonic and Stimulant containing Arsenic, Iron & Sulphur. 2 ¼” x 2” x 3¼”. Excellent condition with a blood red Dr. Clayton’s Bulldog logo on the front. Two previous examples have been recorded, the last in 2005, and both brought over $100. Start this where you wish.

#85) Clayton’s Chorea Tablets for Dogs: Cardboard box with original contents and the early “St. Bernard Dog” logo on the front. 2 ¼” x 1” x 1”. Chorea is the early term for the neurologic tremors associated with Canine Distemper. It was also called “St. Vitus Dance.” These tablets were used to sedate the dog and attempt to stop the tremors and seizures. Cardboard is toned and has minor handling wear over the years.

#86) Clayton’s Ceoline Dog Wash: Unopened bottle with contents and a near mint paper label and box. Just super condition on this large, scarce Dog Wash by Dr. Clayton. 6” x 2 ½” x 1 ½”. It was used for Fleas and lice and removing that “Doggie Odor.” The back panel of the box has a POISON symbol with skull and cross bones. It lists the antidote as washing with dilute Alcohol or Whiskey. Only one previous example, with a box is recorded, that one sold in 2001 for $145. It is likely that this is that same example and is possibly unique. Either way, this is an outstanding example for Dr. Clayton. Dr. Clayton claimed to produce 26 Dog Medicines and 18 Cat medicines. It would be something to collect an entire set.

#87) Clayton’s Digestive Tablets for Dogs: Complete package with an outer cardboard box, package insert and an inner cardboard box with original contents. 4” x 1 ¾” x 1 ¼”. Signs of Indigestion are: “THE ANIMAL IS RESTLESS AND SEEMS IN PAIN, BREATH FETID, TONGUE COATED AND NOSE HOT AND DRY.” Condition of inner box is excellent and dated 1918. The outer box has torn top flaps but displays very well with the large St Bernard Dog logo. Back panel has a list of all Dr. Clayton’s Dog Remedies. This is the only example of this remedy I have ever seen. It sold in 2011 for $225. Here is another chance for the under-bidder to take it home.

#88) Clayton’s KILFLEA Powder: Lithographed, shaker style tin with a twist top and original contents from Dr. George Clayton of Chicago. The top of the oval tin reads: CLAYTON DOG REMEDIES. 4 ½” x 2 ¼” x 1 ¼”. Used to rid Dogs, Cats, and Birds of Fleas and Lice. Big red logo Bulldog on the front panel. Excellent condition with only minimal handling wear. Tin has no objectionable scratches of damage to the paint. Scarce and desirable Flea Powder tin with a great look.

#89) Clayton’s Ketermin Tablet for Dogs: Bottle with paper label, partial contents, box, and paper insert. Right on the front panel its described as “AN EXCELLENT MEDICINE.” 5 ¼” x 1 ¼” x 1 ¾”. This was used for reducing fever and coughs due to colds. Bottle and label are in excellent condition. Box has some minor smudges and has top flap torn off, but present. Only one previous example is recorded and this is likely that example. It sold in 2003 and no other examples have surfaced. This is likely the only bottle recorded in 20 years of keeping track.

#90) Clayton’s Ketermin Tablets for Dogs: Complete packaging of a tablet version of the previous lot. The medicine has an outer cardboard box in blue and red with the early St. Bernard logo and paper insert. The original tablets are in an inner cardboard box of a darker blue color. The entire package of 30 original tablets is complete. The condition of both boxes is excellent, as the inner box has been protected since its original production. The outer box is clean and as bright as you are likely to find. Only three previous examples have been recorded.

#91) Clayton’s Puppy Tonic: Bottle with paper label and box. 5 ¼” x 1 ¾” x 1 ¼”. Unusual, as the bottle label has the St. Bernard logo and the box has the Red Bulldog logo. It is “ESPECIALLY INDICATED WHERE THE PUPPY SHOWS A BLOATED
CONCONDITION OF THE ABDOMEN, IS LISTLESS, IRRITABLE, AND WHINES.” Label has some paper loss along the top edge, but this does not really affect the overall display of the bottle. The box displays very well but does have top flap torn off, but present. Two examples have been recorded, the last in 2005 in a McMurray Drug Store auction.

#92) Clayton’s Vermifuge for Large Roundworms for Dogs: Unopened bottle with paper label, contents, box and paper insert. 4” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. The condition of bottle is near mint to mint. The box is very good with only top flap torn, but present. The box displays very well overall. Only two previous examples have been recorded.

#93) Conkey’s Healing Powder: Unopened canister with full contents and paper label from the G. E. Conkey Company of Cleveland. 3 ½” x 1 ¼”. Described as a “Wonderful Gall Remedy” for horses. Conkey’s specialized in remedies for poultry, but also produced a full line of remedies for horses. The horse remedies are quite scarce. Very good condition on this canister with only one dent into the cardboard on the reverse. This is the first of a large collection of Conkey’s remedies.

#94) Conkey’s Colic Remedy for Horses: Unopened bottle with paper label, dried contents, and original cardboard packing canister with paper label. 4 ¾” x 2”. “A QUICK REMEDY WHERE HASTE IS NECESSARY.” Paper label has only a tiny bit of edge wear, otherwise bright and clean. The canister is a little rough on the reverse, but the front displays quite well. Another very scarce Conkey’s horse remedy. The only other example recorded sold in 2011 for $250. Don’t let this one slip through your fingers as it is a first rate example of a scarce horse colic remedy.

#95) Conkey’s Black Head Remedy: Unopened cardboard canister with contents and paper label. Label has a turkey’s head in the center circle. The condition of this example is near mint with no damage and outstanding color. 4 ½” x 2”. Only two examples have been recorded previously, both were in McMurray’s Drug Store auctions. One in 2002 brought $200 and the other in 2003 sold for $150. I suspect that this example is one of those two previously sold. No examples have ever been sold by VCR and I have never seen another example, in person, before this one was consigned.

#96) Conkey’s Bronchitis Remedy: Unopened bottle with contents, front and rear paper labels, and box. Wonderfully bright color on the labels and box for this unusual poultry remedy. Conkey’s separates Roup and Bronchitis into two different diseases. 5” x 1 ¾” x 1”. Front label has a very small paper ding on the bottom edge. The box has some scuffs and handling wear, but the complete package is really nice.

#97) Conkey’s Canker Special: Bottle with front and rear paper label and box. This is only the second example with a box to come to auction. 5” x 2” x 1”. Contents have evaporated. Very bright and colorful package overall. The label has a tiny right upper corner nip. The box is missing all the top flaps. This is an excellent and scarce Conkey’s Remedy.

#98) Conkey’s Cholera Cure: Early and possibly unique example as this is the first I have ever seen or recorded. Wooden canister with paper label for Cholera Cure. The top has been opened and contents are gone, but the label is complete, covering the entire canister side. 4 ¼” x 2”. There is slight fade to the red color. c1900 poultry cure for your collection.

#99) Conkey’s Cholera Remedy: Unopened cardboard canister with contents and wrap around paper label. Very colorful label with image of hens drinking from a fountain. Medicine was to be mixed with water to be administered. The label gives an “Eastern Price 50 cents” and a “Western Price of 60 cents.” 4 ¾” x 1 ¾”. Minor edge wear to the label at the top and bottom. According to the label the package also contain a measure to get the correct dose.

#100) Conkey’s Lice Powder: Unopened canister with full contents and paper label. 6 ½” x 3”. Image on the front is of a young girl, in a bonnet, powdering up hens in her poultry yard. Very colorful and graphic front panel. A few minor scuffs near the bottom can be seen. One of the scarcer Lice Powders to find and an excellent example.

#101) Conkey’s Roup Cure: Unopened canister with contents and paper label. Another possibly unique Cure that was unrecorded until this example surfaced. 4 ¼” x 2”. This is perhaps, also the earliest Conkey’s packaging as it predates the colorful labels on the previous lots. By comparison, this Roup Cure is rather plain as the label has the directions for use and doubles as a mailing label to ship the canister. The top of the canister also has a circular, Roup Cure label. Condition is very good with overall toning of the paper and paper loss along the top edge that does not affect any of the printed material.

#102) Conkey’s Poultry Conditioner: Cardboard canister with colorful paper label with a crowing cock on the center oval. This is the only example of this Conkey’s Remedy ever recorded and it sold for the first time in 2004 for $140. Since that time, no other examples have surfaced. 4 ¾” x 2 ¼”. Used for poultry recovering from disease or during moulting season. Top has been opened. No damage other than that and handling smudges. Label is dated 1914. This group is filled with rare examples.

#103) Conkey’s Sore Head & Chicken Pox Remedy: Unopened cardboard canister with contents and paper label. Colorful label has the Rooster head logo in the center. 2 ¾” x 2 ¼”. Glue repair to the bottom edge on the left. Looks like the edge was weak and someone sealed this with glue, otherwise original condition. This is the first example of this remedy to appear in a VCR Auction.

#104) Dr. Daniels’ Canine Distemper Tablets for Dog or Cat: Early, complete, original packaging Dr. Daniels Canine Specifics style remedy. Wooden canister with sealed, unopened paper label, folded pamphlet, and box are all included. This is, I believe, the earliest style Dr. Daniels Dog Remedy and is named “Canine Specifics” on the side of the box. 4” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. The box has damage to the bottom flaps with a tape repair to reattach one flap. Canister label is in mint condition. One of the finest Dr. Daniels’ Dog Remedies I have ever seen. Only one previous example with this early box has been recorded, that example brought $400. We will start the bidding on this outstanding example at $100.
#105) Dr. Daniels’ Canine Laxative Tablets for Dog: Early Canine Specific’s box with wooden canister, paper label and folded pamphlet. 4” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. Box is a little brighter than previous example but has torn top flaps. Canister is sealed and unopened but does have some dark stains on top and bottom edge and on reverse. Displays well with an outstanding box and the bright canister label. This example, the only recorded example with this early “Canine Specifics” box, was last offered in 2010 where is sold for $325. We will start the bidding on this outstanding example at $100.

#106) Dr. Daniels’ Compound Sulphur Tablets for Dogs: Early, glass canister with paper label and original contents. This canister is completely sealed and has never been opened. 3 ¾” x 1 ¼”. The condition of the canister is MINT. Used as a medicine to cool the blood of dogs. The box is complete, but does have color fade on the front panel, a little damp stain, and torn top flaps. It did its job and protected the canister within. This is the only recorded example with this early “Canine Specifics” box. This box’s front panel is slightly different than the previous two examples. Great early Dr. Daniels dog medicine.

#107) Dr. Daniels’ Compound Sulphur Tablets for Dogs and Cats: Wooden canister with complete wrap around paper label and labels at each end. 3 ¾” x 1 ¼”. Logo is of Dr. Daniels’ face between the legs of a bulldog. This example probably is a first generation Dr. Daniels’ Dog Medicine, while the previous example with the glass canister is a second generation. This is advertised as a “Cooling Blood Medicine” used for Indigestion, Constipation, Mange, Eczema, and other Skin Ills. Excellent condition with just a couple of light damp stains on the reverse.

#108) Dr. Daniels’ Mange Remedy: Lithographed tin with partial contents, used to treat dogs for Mange, Scurf, Blotch, Surfeit, and Favus. I know what mange is, but I don’t think my Dermatology book has the other four. 3” x 1 ¼”. Top has some scattered wear along the bottom edge. This is a very scarce Dr. Daniels’ Dog Medicine tin as only three other examples have been recorded. All three previous have exceeded $275 each. This one displays very well and is well worth your consideration, as only one other example has been offered in the last twelve years. Opening bid is $75 and go from there.

#109) Dr. Daniels’ Acobel Wafers for Cats and Kittens: Unopened glass canister with wrap around paper label, original contents and box with paper inserts. Used as a Fever reducer in cats and kittens. 3 ¾” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. The label and canister are in mint condition. The box is complete, but does show some minor handling wear. The last example of this Cat and Kitten medicine was offered in 2006 and brought $85.

#110) Dr. Daniels’ Katonic Drops for Cats and Kittens: Unopened, amber bottle with paper label and box with folded inserts. Contents have evaporated. A Tonic Medicine used for Colic, Fits, Worms, and Indigestion in Cats and Kittens. 4” x 1 ¼” x 1 ¼”. Bottle label is in excellent condition. Box is also excellent with an increased price sticker, to 35 cents, on the front. This is the only example of this Dr. Daniels’ CAT ONLY medicine that I have ever seen or heard about. It was previously auctioned in VCR Auction March 2008 where is brought $400. We will start at $100 with no further reserve and see where the competition takes it this time around. Possibly a unique cat only medicine.

#111) Dr. Daniels’ Dispo Tablets for Dogs and Puppies: Unopened glass canister with paper label, contents, and box with paper inserts. 3 ½” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. Used to reduce Fever in dogs and puppies. Canister is in mint, original condition with a terrific label. Box has torn top flaps and color fade overall, but the whole package really displays very well. The last example I sold was in 2004, so a pretty scarce Dog Medicine.

#112) Dr. Daniels’ Effer Wash for Dogs and Cats: Bottle, with paper label and box, used as a wash for Canker of the ear, mouth, and gums. 3 ½” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. Label is in excellent condition. The box is bright and displays well, but is missing the top flaps. This is the only example ever recorded and was previously sold by VCR in 2010 for $160. This time around there is no reserve and it will sell for your high bid. Extremely rare dog and cat medicine.

#113) Dr. Daniels’ V-M Capsules for Dogs, Puppies, Cats and Kittens: Cardboard canister with paper label. No contents. It was used as a vitamin supplement containing Yeast and Calcium. 3 ¼” x 1 ½”. Smudges and minor paper chips to the label.

#114) Dr. Daniels’ Worm Expeller Capsules for Large and Medium Dogs: Unopened glass canister with paper label, contents, and box with paper inserts. 3 ½” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. Canister is in mint, original condition. Box is a little worn with missing top flaps, but any box is a big plus with veterinary medicines.

#115) Dr. Daniels’ Animal Eye Wash: BROKEN, embossed bottle with paper label and box. This is probably the rarest and most difficult Dr. Daniels’ bottled medicine to find. However, the bottle has been broken and glued together. The paper label is mostly complete. What makes this lot still collectible is the BOX. This blue and red box is collectible by itself as some collectors have examples of the Eye Wash bottle without any box. The box is missing the top flaps and has had the price scuffed off, but will still add value to any Eye Wash bottle in you collection. 6” x 2 ½” x 1 ½”.

#116) Dr. Daniels’ Healing Powder and Canker Remedy for Horses, Cattle, Dogs & Cats: Unopened, lithographed tin with contents standing 5 ¼” x 2 ¼”. It was used for Canker of the ear and mouth as well as Galls, Poll Evil, and Foot Rot. The tin has a very bright and ornate look to it. The silver and blue colors really stand out. Excellent condition with just a small scuff or two. Very hard Dr. Daniels’ remedy to find in any condition and this one is well worth your consideration.

#117) Dr. Daniels’ Carbo-Negus Disinfectant: Unopened bottle with paper label, full contents, cork and metal dispenser, box, and many paper inserts. 6 ½” x 2 ½” x 1 ¼”. Used for Mange and Fleas on Dogs, Lice on Horses as well as Galls. Label is clean and very bright with just a tiny bit of edge wear at the shoulders of the bottle. Box has top flap damage and fly strike but displays pretty well and is 95% complete.

#118) Dr. Daniels’ Cough, Cold, Fever Drops and Distemper Remedy: Embossed bottle with paper label, partial contents, and box
Dr. Daniels’ Liniment, Bone, Nerve and Muscle Oil: Unopened, embossed bottle with full contents, paper label and box from Dr. A. C. Daniels’ of Boston. Embossed: DR. A. C. DANIELS’ / LINIMENT / (OSTER COCUS OIL) / BOSTON, MASS. U. S. A. 6 ½” x 2 ½” x 1 ¾”. This is the larger of the two sizes produced and was used on horses to treat such ailments as Spavin, Wind Puffs, Sweeney, and Capped Elbows. Paper label extends to three sides and is clean and bright with very minor top edge wear. The box is stained and has extensive top and bottom damage. The last example of this large size offered with ANY box was in 2004, so this is scarcer than you might have imagined.

Dr. Daniels’ Horse Renovator: Cardboard box containing one dozen single dose boxes. “A MEDICINE FOR HORSES.” Manufactured by the Dr. Daniels Company of Boston. 3 ¾” x 2 ½” x 2 ¾”. Very good condition with just minimal edge wear and light toning to the white border around the box. Used to treat Colic and Abortion in horses and cows according to the side panel.

Dr. Daniels’ Wind Colic Drops: Complete package containing two screw top bottles with paper labels and contents, glass dose vial, and box. 4” x 2 ¾” x 1 ¼”. Contains 65% Alcohol and is labeled “FOR ANIMALS ONLY.” I guess the farmer might have taken a little hit on a cold night in the barn. It also contained Nux Vomica and Strychnine, so that might have slowed him down a bit also. Very good condition and displays very well.

Dr. Daniels’ Pileozion or Wonder Worker: Amber, 12 sided bottle with paper label. This is the small, 25 cent size of Wonder Worker that Dr. Daniel’ also sold for Human use. 5” x 1 ½”. The bright and colorful label, which extends almost completely around the bottle, is in near mint condition. Its hard to find an example nicer that this one.

Dr. Daniels’ Wonder-Worker Lotion: Unopened bottle with paper label, contents and the box. 6 ¼” x 2 ½” x 1 ½”. It was recommended for Barb Wire Cuts, Galls, and Thrush among many other ailments of horses and cattle. Label is extremely colorful and bright with just the slightest of edge wear. The box has extensive damage to the top one fourth. The excellent condition of the bottle and any box, make this scarce and collectible.

Dr. Daniels’ Worm Killer for Horses and Colts: Cardboard box containing one dozen (12) individual dose boxes. This name, “WORM KILLER,” is the earliest name. Later examples became Worm Powder and W. K. Powder. 3 ¾” x 2 ½” x 2 ¼”. Box is in excellent condition overall with just some light foxing to the cardboard. Box has 1906 Drug Act disclaimer.

Dr. Dent’s Desterine for Dogs: Unopened bottle with paper label, contents, and box from the Dent Medicine Company of Newburgh, New York. This Dog Medicine company was spotlighted in a recent edition of VCR Newsletter. I assume this was used to treat the upper respiratory symptoms associated with Canine Distemper, but the label does not make that clear. The condition of the bottle and label is mint. The box is missing the top flaps and the name stickers applied to the box are faded. An earlier name for this medicine might be hiding under the sticker. 5” x 1 ¾” x 1 ¼”. Four examples with boxes have previously been recorded, the last in 2008. All four have sold for or near $200. The box might be a little weak, but the bottle is top shelf material.

Dr. Dent’s Distemperine for Dogs: Unopened wooden canister with wrap around paper label, contents, box, and paper insert. 3 ½” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. This appears to be the tablet version of the previous bottled remedy. I am not clear if one name is older than the other, or if they are just named differently because one is liquid and the other tablet. It is a treatment for Canine Distemper. Canister has had the original 50 cent price marked out and a new price of 60 cents added in the upper margin. The canister and label are otherwise in excellent, original condition. The box has had the name of the medicine faded away on the front panel and has top flaps torn off, but present. Dog Distemper medicines are always in demand.

Dr. Dent’s Eye Lotion for Dogs: Amber bottle with paper label, dried contents, box, and paper inserts. The box states, Eye Lotion Tablets while the bottle label is just Dent’s Eye Lotion. I suspect that this remedy original was produced as a tablet that the buyer dissolved as needed to treat their dog. Later, the company produced this bottled Lotion and just used up the supply of old boxes while saving a few bucks. 3 ½” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. Label is near mint. The box has torn flaps as do most veterinary medicine boxes.

Dr. Dent’s Fit Medicine for Dogs: Unopened wooden canister with paper label and contents, box and paper insert. Slight variation as the box is FIT MEDICINE and the canister is ANTI-FIT TABLETS. Whatever the name, the use was to either prevent or treat epileptic seizures in dogs. 3 ½” x 1 ½” x 1 ½”. The complete package is in near mint condition with no damage. Only one previous example has ever been recorded (2001) and this may well be it, as the consigner was a collector of top notch dog medicines for many years. This one has it all, rarity, condition, and desirability.

Dr. Dent’s Blood Purifying Pills for Dogs: Unopened wooden canister with paper label and contents. “These pills will greatly assist other Dent’s remedies in the cure of Mange, Eczema, and all diseases arising from impurities in the system.” 3” x 1”. The red color of the name has faded somewhat, but is still readable. Stain on the bottom reverse of label. All Dr. Dent’s Medicines are scarce, so this is still a collectible example.

Dr. Dent’s Dog Medicines, Lot of Two (2): Lot contains two wooden canisters, unopened with original contents and paper labels. 3” x 1”. CONDITION PILLS and DIARRHEA TABLETS. The name on the front panel has all but faded away, however the name and full directions is complete on the reverse. The labels have stains and toning. These are examples to add to your collection for a modest price.
#131) Federal Poultry Food: Unopened box with a very colorful and graphic label from the Federal Food Company of Mifflinburg, PA. Box has original contents. 8” x 5 ¼” x 2 ¼”. Image of a young girl in the chicken yard feeding from this box of Poultry Food as fowl of all type peck away. Condition is very good with a few paper scuffs and some edge damage to the bottom left corner as seen. Nice, colorful shelf piece.

#132) Glover’s Imperial Cough Mixture: Amber, embossed bottle with paper label extending to three sides, and the box from H. Clay Glover, D.V.S. The address on the label and box is 1278 Broadway, New York, New York. This is the earliest address for Dr. Glover’s Dog Medicines and dates this pre-1900. 5 ¼” x 2” x 1 ½”. Used for “Coughs, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all Pulmonary Diseases in Dogs.” The bottle has a small chip on the backside of the lip. The paper label has paper loss to the upper right corner, which is not obvious from the front and does not involve the loss of any wording. The box top is open and the bottom panel is just holding on. The paper is darkened with age, but hold on, this is only the second example of this medicine to ever be offered with any box and this is also the earliest recorded example, it having the Broadway address.

#133) Goodwinol Ointment for Dogs, Free Sample: Free Sample size tin with German Shepherd Dog on the lid from the Goodwinol Products Corp, of New York City. 1 ¼” x 1 ¼”. Tin has some staining along the side, but this does not affect the display. Goodwinol was used to treat Mange in dogs. Free Sample tins are a neat go-with for your collection.

#134) Dr. A. Groff’s Celebrated XXX Pennsylvania Dutch Horse and Cattle Powder: Unopened cardboard box with contents from the Wm. S. Cattell Company of Woodbury, New Jersey. Used for cough and Heaves, a worm exterminator, and blood purifier. This is a very early box c1900 with a nice horse scene on the front and great name. 6 ¼” x 3 ¾” x 2”. Condition is very good, but the box does have a couple of small punches to the cardboard. One on the right side and one just above and into the word “Horse” on the front. These might leak a tiny bit of content with shipping, but are fine sitting on a shelf or display. I can find only one previous example sold and that was in 1999, in a McMurray Pharmacy Auction, where that example brought $180. This is possibly the same example and may be unique, if not, very rare.

#135) Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer: Unopened canister with colorful paper label from Ashland, Ohio. 6 ¼” x 3”. Young girl in a red dress is powdering the chicken behind with Louse Killer. Strong image and bright colors with just a little wear on the reverse. This is the one pound, 25 cent size.

#136) Dr. Hess Stock Tonic, Free Sample: Unopened box with colorful wrapper from Dr. Hess & Clark of Ashland, Ohio. Used as a Conditioner and Worm Expeller in live stock. 5” x 4” x 2”. Excellent condition, clean and bright with just minimal edge wear. Veterinary free samples make a great collection area. Start your collection with this nice example.

#137) Dr. Hobson’s Fever and Distemper Tonic for Dogs: Unopened cork top bottle with paper label, contents, and box from the Pfeiffer Chemical Company of New York. 6” x 2” x 1 ¼”. Directions state that after treatment is given, “Do not fuss over them. He will make a quicker recovery if left to himself.” Two Terriers are on the front panel. Label has some very light damp stain and the box has top damage with missing flaps. It still displays very well and is quite scarce with only three previous offerings recorded.

#138) Hobson’s Sarcoptic Mange Treatment for Dogs: Bottle with paper labels, insert, contents, and near mint condition box. 6 ½” x 2 ¼” x 1 ½”. From the Pfeiffer Chemical Company of St. Louis. Collie image on the front of the box. This medicine contained Cresol, Turpentine, and Kerosene. Bottle is screw top and has perfect labels. Near mint overall example.

#139) Humphreys’ Homeopathic Veterinary B. B.: Embossed horse head bottle, unopened, with paper label, contents, box and Noah’s Ark booklet. B. B. was used to treat Strains, Lameness, and Injuries from over work in horses. 3 ½” x 2” x 1 ¼”. Paper label has the 15% Alcohol designation and is in mint condition. The box is missing the top flaps, but displays very well. Complete package, in great condition, and hard to beat this example.

#140) International Medicinal Poultry Food Topic: Unopened box with contents and a complete wrap around paper label from the International Stock Food Company (ISF) of Minneapolis, MN. The label is extremely graphic and colorful with poultry imagery on three sides. This is the 25 cent size at 7 ½” x 5” x 2 ½”. Excellent condition with a bit of paper loss on the back panel and minor edge wear. Displays great. Colorful boxes such as this are always in demand.

#141) International Medicinal Stock Food Topic: Unopened box with contents and a complete wrap around paper label from the International Stock Food Company (ISF) of Minneapolis, MN. The label is extremely graphic and colorful with animal heads in the corners. This is the 25 cent size at 7 ½” x 5” x 2 ½”. This is the stock food that Dan Patch ate every day. When these boxes show up, they are always in demand for their display appeal. Excellent condition, with just a little edge wear on the bottom left. Super bright and clean.

#142) Imperial Egg Producer: Unopened box with very colorful and graphic paper label of every type of poultry and fowls from the F. C. Sturtevant Company of Hartford, CT. This is the 26 ounce size and is 7” x 4 ½” x 2”. “WILL MAKE YOUR HENS LAY!” The label surrounds the box and the colorful poultry images extend to three sides. This box pre-dates the 1906 Pure Food and Drug Act. Other than minor handling wear and a few light smudges, I’d consider this box in near mint, original condition. No damage is evident and I have a hard time believing you can find a nicer example. In our last auction, we sold the larger 60 ounce example, of this same Egg Producer, with the same graphic label, for $725. While I doubt this one will reach those heights, I do believe the condition of this example is superior overall. Opening bid is $100 and we will go from there.

#143) Lambert’s Death to Lice Powder: Canister with paper label from the Klein-Lambert Company of Chicago. This is the less common 25 cent size and 6 ¼” x 3”. The label is faded and has some light dampness stains. The giant size is pretty common, but this smaller size is tough to find.

#144) Lee’s Louse Powder: Unopened one pound canister with paper label from the George Lee Company of Omaha. Colorful label has a farm wife powdering up a white chicken. 6 ¼” x 3”. Excellent condition.
#145) Dr. LeGear’s Hog Prescription: Unopened, three pound box with contents. 8 ¼” x 6” x 3”. Excellent condition with a clean and bright paper label. “an improved tonic and conditioner for hogs.”

#146) Dr. LeGear’s Kennel Disinfectant: Unopened bottle with paper label and box. 8 ¾” x 2 ½” x 1 ¼”. Lower right corner of the label is missing, otherwise clean and bright. The box front is faded to be essentially unreadable and the top quarter is damaged. That being said, this is one of the hardest examples of Dr. LeGears’ Dog Medicines to find and place in his display.

#147) Dr. LeGear’s Nerve Sedative Tablets for Dogs, Puppies, and Cats: Complete package with outer cardboard box, inner canister with contents and paper inserts. Excellent condition with just smudges on the top. Front panel is clean and bright. 2 ½” x 1 ¾” x 1”.

#148) Dr. LeGear’s Poultry Prescription: Unopened 3 ½” pound box with contents and a wrap around label. Very colorful front panel as Dr. LeGear is pointing to a laying hen with about a half dozen eggs in her nest. 10” x 6” x 3 ½”. “THE LAYING TONIC / A TESTED POULTRY REMEDY.” Very tall box with strong display appeal. Condition is near mint.

#149) Dr. LeGear’s Poultry Worm Powders: Unopened box with contents and colorful wrap around paper label. Very colorful with bright red and yellow format. Excellent, near mint condition. This is the 50 cent size with 1 ½ pounds of large roundworm wormer. Only one previous example has been recorded, that was back in 2008.

#150) Dr. LeGear’s Screw Worm Killer: Very rare unopened bottle with paper label, contents and box from St. Louis. This is the first and only example of this early CORK top bottle I have ever seen. I have seen later screw top examples, but I would date this example c1910-1920. 6 ¼” x 2” x 1”. The front panel of the box shows a man applying the Screw Worm Killer to the back of his horse. The paper label is toned, but complete with no paper losses. The box has an ornate design on the front panel but is missing all the top flaps and part of one bottom flap. For the only example ever seen, it’s not in too bad condition. As they say, “Find another.”

#151) Dr. LeGear’s Stock Powders, Dated 1918: Early, unopened, cardboard box with contents. This is an earlier example and larger size that usually seen. The front panel is more detailed and has the Name “Stock Powders” in a bright blue ribbon design. “MY OWN PRESCRIPTION FOR HORSES, CATTLE, SHEEP, AND HOGS.” Box contains 3 ½ pound of powders and stands an impressive 10” x 6” x 3”. The reverse is also bright and colorful with a horse image and could be displayed that way as well. Condition is excellent overall. The large size, graphic design and bold colors make this a better Dr. LeGear remedy.

#152) Dr. LeGear’s Stock Powders: Gigantic, unopened, cardboard box with contents. This seven (7) pound box is unrecorded in my census of veterinary prices realized. 11 ½” x 7 ½” x 4”. Very strong colors and a great look. Excellent condition overall. If your looking for medicine boxes that really show off, this one really pops. I have never seen this large size previously.

#153) Dr. Max’s Colic Specific: Unopened bottle with paper label and original contents from the Dr. Max’s Medicine Company of Peoria, Illinois. 5 ¾” x 2” x 1”. “FOR COLIC IN HORSES AND MULES AND BLOATING IN CATTLE.” Label has 1906 Drug Act disclaimer. Label has small paper loss to right lower corner, otherwise its in excellent condition. To my knowledge, this is the first example of a medicine, from this company to ever be recorded. Possibly unique, large animal colic cure.

#154) Moyer’s Condition Powder: Unopened box with original contents and a complete wrap around paper label from Howard Moyer, Druggist of Quakertown, PA. 7” x 3” x 3”. Excellent, near mint condition. “A Sure and Efficient Cure for Coughs, Distemper, Affections of the Lungs, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Roughness of the Skin & c.” This one cures everything inside and out.

#155) Prussian Heave Remedy: Unopened box with complete wrap around paper label from the Prussian Remedy Company of St. Paul, MN. 5” x 2” x 3 ¼”. “CURES HEAVES, COUGH, DISTEMPER, EPIZOOTIC, PINK EYE AND ALL LUNG AND THROAT TROUBLES.” Excellent condition with only minor handling wear. Bright color displays very well.

#156) Red Cross Gall Cure: Unopened tin with paper label, contents and box from the Interstate Chemical Company of Baltimore, Maryland. 2 ½” x 1”. Label has a nice bright “Red Cross” to go with the name. Label also has the 1906 Drug Act guarantee. The box and tin are in original unused condition. The cardboard box is age toned. This is the first example of this Gall Cure that I have ever encountered. Remember, the Drug Act of 1906 made it illegal to use the word “Cure” in your name or advertising, yet here is the name printed with the Drug Act guarantee on the same label.

#157) Rex Conditioner: Unopened cardboard box with contents from the Rex Stock Food Company of Omaha, Nebraska. Used for all kinds of stock & poultry. 7 ¾” x 4” x 2 ½”. Very good condition with strong colors. A couple of small bug holes in the bottom edge. This box looks great on a shelf and is fairly uncommon as only a couple of examples have sold previously.

#158) Dr. Roberts Sarcopitic Mange Medicine for Dogs: Glass jar with paper label and unused original contents from the Dr. Roberts Veterinary Company of Waitekesh, Wisconsin. 2 ¼” x 2 ¼”. Excellent condition with a clean label. One small dent to the lid. Dr. Roberts was known for his large animal medicines primarily, but he also produced a complete line of Dog Medicines. Examples of his Dog Medicines are quite scarce.

#159) Dr. David Roberts Tapeworm Treatment for Dogs: Hinged lid metal tin with contents and a rare Dr. Roberts Dog Medicine. 1 ¾” x 1 ¾” x ¾”. Only four different Roberts Dog Medicines tins have ever been offered and none were this Tapeworm Treatment example. Tin is somewhat dirty and has some minor residue on the surface. This should improve with cleaning. This is a neat little dog medicines about the size and shape of old time aspirin tins, 1 ¾” x 1 ¾” x ¾”. This is the only example I have ever recorded at auction.
#160) Royal Condition Powder: Lithographed, CURE tin from the Beauce Chemical Company. 4” x 3” x 3”. “The Best Remedy for Horses. Cures the worst cough, Glanders and Attacks of the Heaves. It also gives appetite and makes the horse mew.” Not sure what a horse mewing looks like, but it sounds happy. Minimal wear to the sides, as the graphics are nice and bright. Some oxidation to the top panel. A first offering for this Condition Powder.

#161) Sergeant’s Condition Pills for Dogs: Early, lithographed tin from the Polk Miller Company of Richmond, Virginia. They produced Sergeant’s Dog Medicines, named after Mr. Millers’ favorite dog, “Sergeant.”. 1 ¾” x 1 ¼”. This is a rare example. It also contains its original tablets. “AN UNEXCELLED ALTERATIVE & TONIC FOR DOGS.” “POISONOUS TO HUMAN BEINGS.” Fancy decoration on the side and directions on the reverse. Has one scuff, that is almost lost, in the neck of the dog image on the lid, otherwise excellent. One of my all time favorite dog medicine tins.

#162) Seneca Poultry Powder: Unopened cardboard box with contents from the Seneca Company of Tiffin, Ohio. Extremely colorful and bright box with detailed poultry yard scene on the front. The Seneca Indian Chief logo is at the top of the front panel. The box is extremely clean and the colors really pop. Call this one at least excellent in condition. 7” x 3 ¾” x 2 ¼”. “CONTAIN NO WORTHLESS FILLER BUT IS A HIGHLY MEDICATED COMPOUND.” This company produced some of the most graphic and desirable veterinary patent medicine boxes and this one is no exception. Even if you are not a poultry medicine collector, you have got to like this box’s look. Opening bid is $100.

#163) Security Antiseptic Healer: Bottle and box from the Security Remedy Company of Minneapolis, MN. Bottle has original cork closure with wax sealant, paper label, and contents. It was directed for use on fleshy wounds, killing maggots and preventing Proud flesh. 7 ¼” x 2 ¼” x 1”. Label is stained along the right side. Box is missing top flaps and back seam needs to be re-glue. Image on the front of the box is of a horse bleeding profusely from Barb Wire cuts. The horse is being held, by a groom, while the horseman applies closure with wax sealant, paper label, and contents. It was directed for use on flesh wounds, killing maggots and preventing Proud flesh. Fair Condition, but very scarce.

#164) Sleekene: A blood medicine and tonic for horses, cattle and poultry produced by the Hanford Company of Syracuse, NY. The cardboard box is unopened and contains its original contents. 5 ½” x 3 ¾” x 2”. This is a one pound box that sold for 50 cents. Excellent, original condition without damage. Central logo is a horse looking through a horseshoe. This is from the same company that produced Balsam of Myrrh liniment for horses and sold their veterinary patent medicines in glass front display cabinets that are very collectible today.

#165) Talbott’s Rheumatic Remedy for Dogs: Unopened wooden canister with a magnificent wrap around paper label and original contents from W. R. Talbott Chemical Company of Sandusky, Ohio. 2 ¼” x 1 ¾”. Used to treat Rheumatism in dogs, which is manifested by lameness, swollen joints, severe tenderness, and trouble walking. Talbott’s Dog Medicines are the most colorful and graphic dog medicine labels in all of veterinary patent medicine history. In my mind, they are the top of the line for Dog Medicines. I have seen a few examples in private collections, but in 17 years of running VCR Auctions, I have never had the opportunity to offer a single example prior to this offering. This Rheumatic Remedy has a very detailed image of a Pointer Dog on the front panel with eight color graphics. The top of the canister also has a round paper label with the same image, only expanded to include ground cover. The condition overall is near mint to mint and about the best you could possibly hope for. This canister, to my knowledge, the only Talbott’s Dog Medicine to ever be offered at auction, was purchased by the consigner in 2005 for $450 in a McMurray Drug Store Auction. That was possibly the record for a single Dog Medicine. While it might not make that height today, we will start the bidding at $200 and see where it lands.

Group Lots

#166) Champion Dog Remedies, Lot of Three (3): Three canisters with paper labels for “Quick Action Worm Expeller” by the Champion Animal Food Company of Minneapolis, MN. 2 ½” x 2”. All three of the metal tops are oxidized and unable to be opened. The paper labels are toned. These are however, the very first examples of Dog Remedies from this company to come to light. Rare, but off condition. You set the price with your high bid.

#168) Horse and Cattle Mixed Lot of three (3): This lot contains three medicines for large animals. All items have their original contents. Gazley’s Condition Powders from Bellville, Ohio. Box is heavily toned and the top panel has been smushed in slightly, causing some damage to the top edge as seen. Fair Condition, but very scarce. Lawrence Caustic Balsam is a screw top bottle and box dated 1933. This was originally named Gombault’s Caustic Balsam, but this later example has had a name change. Paper label on the bottle is excellent but has come unglued from the bottle. Box is excellent. Dr. LeGear’s Stock Powders is an excellent, sealed example of the 1 ¼ pound size. Three items all for your high bid.

#169) Dr. LeGear’s Remedies, Lot of Three (3): Dr. LeGear’s Lice Powder canister in unopened with complete paper label. Minor stains on the reverse and a nice image on the front. Dr. LeGear’s Cow Prescription two pound unopened box. The top right corner has been damaged, but the image of four cows is strong and this is a much less common example. Dr. LeGear’s Hog Prescription is a 3 ½ pound unopened box. Very different color label with the Doctor spooning remedy out of a bucket. There is paper loss along the left edge and the bottom panel edges are leeking product. I would advise having the box emptied prior to shipping. Total of three items for you to consider.
